CHINA DEMANDS RUSSIA LEAVE TREATY PORT

Statement on Dairen Comes as Reds Prepare To Take Over Harbin.

By The Associated Press

A Chinese government spokesman conceded the rich north Manchurian city of Harbin to the Communists today but insisted that the Russians get out of the southern port of Dairen, which so far is not on the Red army's schedule of withdrawals.

The spokesman, Minister of Information K. C. Wu, declared Chinese Communists were "already in Harbin," from which the Russians are scheduled to withdraw by the end of the day.

Wu said he had no information on the situation at Dairen "but Dairen is a part of China and we expect the Russians to withdraw from all Manchuria before the end of the month, as they agreed."

Dairen became a free port under the Chinese-Russian treaty of last August.

Take Over Airport

Several sources reported Chinese Government planes, trying to land at Harbin to evacuate tarrying government officials, found the airport already taken over by the Communists. The planes returned to Mukden, one of the government-controlled Manchurian cities, without the officials.

Sage Jorgensen, the Danish consul who flew out of Harbin only yesterday, told Associated Press Photographer Julian Wilson in Mukden that Harbin residents would welcome the arrival of the Communists. He said the citizens feared an outbreak of robbery and looting if the Communists didn't take over because the government garrison there was too small to assume control.

In the Cards

Communist leaders said several days ago they would take Harbin as soon as the Russians withdrew.

Associated Press Correspondent Fred Hampson radioed from Peiping that four planes sent to Harbin yesterday to evacuate officials —the number was not reported—

Annual Daylight Saving Time Mixup Will Start Sunday

By The Associated Press

To use a Shakespearean phrase, "The time is out of joint,"—or will be, come 2 a. m. next Sunday.

For at that "witching hour" timepieces in six states and many points in 18 others will be pushed forward one hour to start postwar daylight saving time.

But 24 other states and the District of Columbia, in a different frame of mind, will remain on standard time.

Daylight savings time was replaced by war time during the war, when clocks throughout the nation were set one hour ahead of standard time.

That time system ended last September after three years and eight months.

The states which will have daylight saving time on a state-wide basis are: New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Connecticut.

Those states which will allow communities to make their own decision on the subject are:

West Virginia, Illinois, Minnesota, Florida, Michigan, South Carolina, Kentucky, Missouri, New Mexico, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Ohio, Louisiana, New York, Delaware, Oregon, Maine and Maryland.

Radio networks, airlines and railroads, which must figure time on a nation-wide basis in planning schedules, have arranged to cope with the differences.

The networks said they would try to record and rebroadcast programs where a change would affect regular program times.

The Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central Railroad said they would operate on standard time.

TWA, United and American Airlines will rearrange their flight schedules.

Marion city and county will remain on eastern standard time.

Curfew Is Set for Offenders in Drive To Boost Discipline

By The Associated Press

FRANKFURT, GERMANY, April 25—Rigorous measures to combat a deterioration of discipline among American troops in Europe—including busy training schedules for all and an 11 p. m. curfew for soldiers with bad conduct records—were ordered today by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney.

Orders Prompt Correction

The European commander-in-chief, admitting morale and discipline had declined seriously within the last few months, told a news conference he had issued orders that "prompt corrective measures must be taken to remove the cause, deal swiftly and justly with the offenders and limit and prevent any future occurrences."

Army medical officers had recommended earlier today U. S. occupation troops in Europe be given plenty of work on the drill field as a means of fighting an excessive venereal disease rate and to implement Gen. McNarney's disciplinary crackdown.

Among the new corrective measures, McNarney listed:

1. New training programs—"in addition to the normal training programs for occupational duties"—which will leave soldiers less idle time or unused energy to get into trouble.

2. The requirement that soldiers must have special passes to be out of their billets after 11 p. m., with only those having good conduct records permitted to receive such passes. The rule to be enforced by frequent checks.

3. More rigid controls of firearms and court martial for those who carry weapons illegally

4. More intensive control of venereal disease.

5. Swift punishment of lawlessness or offenses against civilians.

"Other additional measures are contemplated," McNarney announced.

The general blamed the deterioration of Army discipline principally on rapid redeployment, heavy turnover in personnel and inexperienced replacements.

Maj. Claude M. Eberhart of Chicago, venereal disease control officer for the European theater, proposed all major commands in Europe "return to garrison life" and its strict discipline to fight venereal disease, which he said now averages 211 cases per thousand men per year.

Gen. McNarney, in his orders yesterday to tighten discipline, listed the "excessive venereal disease rate" as one indication of deteriorating GI morale and discipline. Maj. Eberhart said the annual rate rose from 52 cases per thousand on V-E day to highs of 427 per thousand in some areas.

"There is, however, no guarantee that the rate won't continue to rocket," Eberhart said. "Food shortages, as they grow worse, will increase the promiscuity of girls, who will become more willing to sell themselves for chocolate bars and the necessities of life which soldiers can provide.

"One of the few alternatives," he continued, "is to enforce Army discipline, with emphasis on drills, reviews, parades, tightening of courtesy and general discipline, and a re-institution of military calls, such as retreat and reveille.

"This will not only keep the idle soldier off the streets but will give him pride in being a soldier. Right now many soldiers have no pride, and men without pride don't care with whom they sleep."

Maj. Eberhart said the venereal disease rate, which climbed sharply after V-E day, dropped slightly in September as a result of an educational program and redeployment, but then began to skyrocket again.

CIO LEADER IN NEW OPA FUSS

Says "Greedy Interests" Are Out To Sabotage Price Control System.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25—CIO Secretary James B. Carey said today "certain greedy interests" were out to sabotage price controls. He got into an immediate argument with Senator Millikin (R-Colo) on whether party politics is involved.

The exchange took place at hearings of the senate banking committee on legislation to extend price controls a year beyond June 30.

Carey said two Republican members of the house had referred publicly to the OPA act as an economic narcotic. He cited this in saying there is in this country "an economic monarchy which makes its own laws."

Millikin protested that a lot of Democrats in the house had the same feeling as the two Republicans Carey mentioned. The senator argued OPA was not a partisan issue.

Carey took several shots at the National Association of Manufacturers, which opposes OPA and has carried on an active campaign against it.

"N.A.M. has the worst 10 per cent of the worst 10 per cent of the employers of the country," he said.

He agreed with Senator Mitchell (D-Wash) that "it is unfortunate that the American people do not have the resources of the N.A.M. to present its case on price controls."

"I haven't seen any lack of propaganda for OPA," Millikin remarked.

The house has voted to extend OPA nine months but with

Leo Durocher Freed in Assault Charge

NEW YORK, April 25—Leo Durocher, Brooklyn Dodger manager, today was acquitted by an all-male jury of a charge of second degree assault against a 23-year-old Dodger fan.

Joseph Moore, 50-year-old special guard at Ebbets Field and a co-defendant with Durocher, also was acquitted.

John Christian, a war veteran, had said the two men beat him in an encounter under the Ebbets Field grandstand after a Brooklyn-Philadelphia game last June 9. Both defendants claimed he fell.

The jury was out 38 minutes. When they returned, German Shapiro, the foreman, told the court:

"We have unanimously decided that Mr. Durocher is not guilty. We also decided that Mr. Moore is not guilty."

OPA CONSIDERS PLAN TO BOOST PRICE OF SHOES

CPA Also Set To Lift Order; Survey of Men's Suit Situation Pushed.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25—With OPA's approval, the Civilian Production Administration pushed plans today to suspend a manufacturing control which helped hold shoe prices down during the war.

And OPA laid some plans of its own to boost prices on low-cost shoes in an effort to make more of them available.

Meanwhile there were these other developments touching consumer needs and pocketbooks:

1. OPA rushed a survey to determine whether its regulations will jeopardize shipment of men's suits to stores after May 1.

2. Dealers met with OPA to discuss the possibility of a tire price increase.

OPA's shoe production control has required manufacturers to turn out the same proportion of low-priced footwear they did during 1942.

CPA had planned to wipe the shoe order off the books. OPA objected and the agencies compromised on a plan to suspend it. This would permit re-instatement of the order should shoe prices get out of hand.

Says Order Not Needed

A CPA official who withheld use of his name said the order was not needed any more because shoe production had climbed so much. He estimated present output at about 42,000,000 pairs monthly, or close to 10,000,000 pairs more than in any prewar month.

CPA believes that with production running at that rate, manufacturers will turn out plenty of low-cost shoes voluntarily.

But despite this and its agreement to go along, OPA is finding it necessary to increase inexpensive shoe prices to obtain more production.

An OPA official estimated the price increase may be about 10 per cent. The plan is to apply it only to models which were made in 1942 and which probably will sell at $5 or less.

As for men's suits, OPA began its study yesterday after a clothing industry spokesman had asserted suit deliveries to retail stores would have to stop May 1 unless the maximum average price regulation were amended.

This regulation prohibits shipments of high-priced suits unless quarterly output of these is balanced with a supply of inexpensive suits. Manufacturers are given an extra 30 days—to May 1 in this case — to balance production.

Some manufacturers contend they can't make the grade because OPA revised price ceilings on March 11 and didn't alter production restrictions accordingly.

OPA's Position

OPA takes the position this has no bearing on the case because the price increases did not become effective on an industry-wide basis until April 15—two weeks after the end of the quarter for which producers now are accountable.

But the agency is checking manufacturers' cost and production records, and expects, officials said, that the average price order will have to be liberalized because of the shortage of low-cost fabric.

Any tire price increase to producers will be to offset a wage boost recently granted by the rubber industry. The purpose of today's meeting with dealers is to decide whether any increase allowed should be passed on to the public.

Stamp 49 Valid For Sugar Ration May 1

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25 — Spare stamp 49 in family ration books will become valid May 1 for five pounds of sugar.

Announcing this today, OPA said the new coupon would expire Aug. 31. Sugar stamp 30, the last specifically labeled "sugar" will expire April 30.

OPA said that on the basis of latest surveys it is expected the present sugar ration of five pounds every four months could be maintained. In that case, another sugar stamp will be validated Sept. 1.

Spare stamp 49 is in ration book four, as well as in the special sugar ration books issued to veterans and as replacements.

The meeting was proposed by U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes and received the approval of other participants, Britain's Ernest Bevin, France's Georges Bidault, Russia's V. M. Molotov.

UN Decision on Franco Probe To Help Shape Future Policy

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 25—The world security council on this first anniversary of the United Nations' San Francisco organizational meeting today was shaping a policy on how far afield it may go to detect and suppress any alleged plot to breach the peace.

A far-reaching plan of inquiry has been urged by Australia in per generally well-received proposal that the council investigate Franco Spain fully before voting on Poland's motion for a collective UN diplomatic break with that excluded, non-member nation.

Poland has contended the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco shelters fugitive Nazi war-plotters and scientists who may be conducting researches in atomic energy, menaces the French frontier with a massing of troops and is a potential hotbed for a new war.

Although prolonged discussion on the methods of investigation was anticipated when the council meets at 3 p. m., there were indications the Australian plan would be acceptable in some form.

Adoption of Australian Delegate W. R. Hodgson's proposal would broaden the council's scope and open the way for detailed inquiry into the affairs of Spain or any suspect nation.

It has been discussed widely among the delegations in private with indications of gathering support and it now for the first time finds the Big Three apparently in agreement on principle.

Faced with Hodgson's repeated demand for fullest fact-finding and documentation, a majority including the United States, Britain and Russia was reported lining up in agreement that it was not a question of whether Spain should be investigated but rather how it should be done tactically.

The bulldog-jawed Australian has reminded the council that it is "the watchdog for the whole of the United Nations" and has told his council-mates that Australia considers no case closed until all the facts are in.

BLAME ENGINE CREW IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Board Determines Cause of Mishap in Marion Yards.

Responsibility for the collision between an Erie railroad freight locomotive and passenger train near the Kenton avenue crossing Monday was laid to the crew of the freight locomotive by an investigating board Wednesday.

The board was composed of two representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission, a representative of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission and Erie railroad officials.

The board's decision was that the accident was caused by the crew of the light engine opening a main track switch and entering the main track ahead of the passenger train. A light engine in railroad language means a locomotive that is not pulling any cars. An Erie railroad official said the switch involved is hand operated and one of the crew of the light engine left the locomotive to throw it before proceeding. He declined to state whether it was known who threw the switch.

The engine's fireman, Guy R. Hoag, 28, of Huntington, Ind. was crushed beneath the engine when it turned over after being derailed in the collision. The engineer of the light engine, Charles Caspar of Huntington, was unhurt. Only minor injuries were reported among the crew and passengers of the passenger train, which was carrying German prisoners of war.

Members of the investigating board were C. H. McCarty and W. W. Wickerham of the Interstate Commerce Commission from Washington; Charles F. Parshall of Marion, a representative of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio; and the following Erie railroad officials—A. E. Kriesien of Youngstown, general manager of the Youngstown division; J. P. Allison of Huntington, Ind., superintendent of the Marion division; and H. H. Clark of Marion, superintendent of the Kent division.

COAL STRIKE TO CONTINUE

Lewis Vows Miners Will Outlast Operators; Insists on Welfare Fund.

By The Associated Press

HAZLETON, Pa., April 25 — John L. Lewis, president of the AFL-United Mine Workers, insists the 400,000 striking bituminous workers will continue their strike—outlasting the mine operators—until contract demands are met.

"It may be a week, a month or even six weeks," Lewis told the opening session of the anthracite tri-district scale convention yesterday.

The bushy-browed UMW chieftain blamed the United States Steel Corporation particularly for continuance of the soft coal walkout and asserted that firm was not far from "acutely distressing the economic situation in America."

Lewis bluntly declared negotiations—suspended two weeks ago—would remain deadlocked until the operators decided to renew parley's on the miners' principal demand—establishment of a health and welfare fund to be financed by the industry.

Approximately 450 delegates, representing 75,000 hard coal miners from districts 1, 7 and 9, saw Lewis wave a copy of U. S. Steel's 1945 report and then shout:

"This report shows U. S. Steel charged off $123,000,000 last year for wear and exhaustion of plant facilities. Does it have any more right to deny a health and wel-

America Faces Sharper Slash in Bread Ration To Aid World

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25 — Americans may have to take a still sharper cut in flour supplies than the 25 per cent reduction ordered to make more bread available for hunger sufferers abroad.

This possibility arose today as the government pressed a wheat buying program which has the effect of closing the market to other buyers, including millers and food processors. Grain thus obtained will be used to help feed famine areas.

The government is in a position to dominate the wheat market because it has been authorized to pay farmers a 30-cent-a-bushel bonus over current market prices which are at ceiling prices. Other buyers can not meet the government offer without violating OPA price ceilings.

As a result, millers are limited to supplies of what they have on hand. Some have reported they have enough to last them less than two weeks. By May 1, all mills must reduce their supplies to 21 days' requirements. If they have more than that amount. Stocks above the 21-day supply must be sold to the government.

Just what mills will do for wheat after their 21-day supply runs out is the big question being asked by the industry.

Unless the millers can get supplies from the government, they will be forced to shut down.

Although officials have not said so, the government no doubt will find it necessary to resell some wheat to millers to enable them to operate after their current stocks run out and until new crop wheat becomes available in July.

But with the government itself unable to buy sufficient wheat to meet its urgent export prosities, there is serious thought it would be able to release enough grain to millers to enable them to supply Americans with flour at even the reduced distribution level.

The 30-cent bonus offer expires May 25, and officials expect farmers to take full advantage of it.

SEEK TO END DEADLOCK AT PARIS SESSION

World Waits To See If Major Powers Can Iron Out European Crisis.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, April 25—Foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France met today in Luxembourg palace for the purpose of preparing European treaties to end the greatest war in history.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was the first of the visiting ministers to enter the palace where the four leading powers will attempt to iron out differences which had blocked efforts to draft peace treaties for Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland.

It was Byrnes who suggested the conference be convened to solve problems which have deadlocked a council of deputy foreign ministers in London for months and caused a postponement of the scheduled May 1 European peace conference.

Frenchman Is Host

Georges Bidault, French foreign minister and host, was there to meet his American colleague.

Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov of Russia arrived almost immediately after Byrnes.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Great Britain waved to the crowd and entered the palace last.

The crowd which jammed the streets, nearby balconies and rooftops gave no demonstration.

The conference began shortly after the scheduled 4 p. m., (11 a. m., EST) time, exactly on the first anniversary of President Truman's speech to the San Francisco conference which drafted the United Nations charter.

The ministers, accompanied by their assistants made no statement prior to settling down to their task of dealing with vanquished European nations.

Diplomatic observers in Paris and other parts of the world eyed the conference closely for clues as to whether the Big Four would be able to work out compromises in the spirit of the United Nations or whether disagreements would promote another era of power politics and spheres of influence.

Italy Is Sore Spot

The greatest difficulty facing the foreign ministers — Ernest Bevin of Britain, Georges Bidault of France, Vyacheslav M. Molotov of Russia and Byrnes—was expected in reaching an agreement on the treaty to end Italy's nearly three years of "hand-to-mouth" existence.

The four powers are divided over Russian reparations demands on Italy, on Russia's desire for control of Tripolitania, and on Soviet demands for bases in the Dodecanese.

One of the thorniest problems, however, apparently had been settled with announcement of a virtual accord on the touchy problem of the Italian-Yugoslav border in Venezia-Giulia.

It was believed that a four-power boundary commission which made an on-the-spot study of the latter problem would have its report, with or without recommendations, ready for submission to the ministers by Saturday or Monday.

Other Issues Delayed

The ministers are not scheduled to discuss treaties for Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland until after the Italian problems have been disposed of.

At the request of France, French demands of internationalization of the Ruhr and detachment of the Rhineland from Germany have been placed on the agenda. Bidault declared that Germany was the "key to peace."

"If we can agree on Germany," he told correspondents, "we can agree on other things in the world. If we cannot agree on Germany we shall not be able to agree on anything else."

Byrnes Backs Plan for Ending Tariffs To Boost Europe

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25—A proposal that all European countries junk their tariffs in a bid to speed economic recovery of the continent has been drafted for Secretary of State Byrnes to lay before his Paris colleagues.

The free trade arrangement would extend over a five-year period.

Officials said the proposal was part of an overall plan which

More Than 1,000 Vets Placed On Jobs Through USES Office

More than 1,000 veterans have been placed on jobs through the Marion branch of the United States Employment Service, according to figures released today by Francis Field, veterans' representative.

Total number of veterans receiving jobs through the employment service office during the last year were 1,010. Sixty-seven of these veterans were from Kenton and 17 were from Upper Sandusky, Mr. Field said.

The problem of providing jobs for returning service men still remains a big issue in Marion, officials believe. Mr. Field reports he now has 561 veterans' applications, of which 92 are from disabled veterans.

Some Need Special Jobs

Special jobs are required for disabled veterans, making the task of securing employment for them doubly difficult. Such veterans are given special attention and counselling, the veterans' representative said.

One of the phases of the employment service veterans' program is the veteran apprentice system. Thirty Marion veterans now are working under the system and about 20 more are awaiting assignment. The plan provides that an employer pays the veteran an apprentice wage and gives him on the job training, while the government pays the veteran the difference between his wage and that of an experienced worker. The veterans administration will pay up to $65 a month for a single man and up to $90 a month for a married man.

Objectives of Program

Objectives of the expanded service to veterans, Mr. Field said, were to make the resources of the local office available to veterans, to render service that the veteran thinks of the local USES as a place to secure a job, to place a veteran on a suitable job as soon as possible, to refer the veteran to available training when necessary, to route the veteran to other community agences for special services and to use selective placement factors in servicing handicapped veterans.

C. OF C. URGES DEATH OF OPA

Chamber Seeks End to All Price and Rent Control by March 31, 1947.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25—The United States Chamber of Commerce yesterday called for an end of all price and rent controls by March 31, 1947.

The recommendation was made in a statement prepared for the senate banking committee by Emerson P. Schmidt, the chamber's director of economic research.

He said the directors of the chamber advocated lifting price controls, with the exception of rent, by Oct. 31. The rent regulations should be removed by next March 31, he added.

Made to Committee

Schmidt's statement was distributed before he was called before the committee, which is considering legislation to continue price controls a year beyond June 30.

Through Schmidt the chamber also contended the administration is taking "too narrow a view" of the relation that wage increases bear to price increases.

Schmidt said that the government had been "readily permitting wage increases" where it found that they did not require price increases in turn.

He called this a too narrow view of the "price-and cost-making process," continuing:

"Every wage increase, even when it does not necessitate a price increase, stimulates upward price pulls and the black market under current conditions, because of the increased buying power which it places in the hands of the public.

"Some wage readjustments at war's end were inevitable but they should occur primarily where employers find them necessary to recruit an adequate labor supplly. .

Cites Quality Loss

"The quality deterioration in some commodities is a direct result of the whipsawing between the upward pressure of costs and wages and the downward pressure of OPA ceilings.

"Politically determined prices and wages are uncertain prices and wages. * * * When prices depend upon government decision confusion is added and uncertainty is increased because the behavior of government officials is inevitabaly unpredictable."

The complaints subcommittee of the senate small business committee previously had urged that immediate attention be given to the possibility of "gradual removal price controls and subsidies on meat."

Programs on the Air

Marion listeners to WMRN, Marion and other radio stations throughout the country, Sunday, April 28, will find some of their programs aired at different times, according to an announcement by WMRN.

The American Broadcasting Co. of which WMRN is a member has worked out a system unique for most of its daytime shows. The net effect of the new scheduling is that all ABC radio stations in this time zone will carry daylight programs at the same time as they are now scheduled.

Station officials pointed out for example that Don McNeil's "Breakfast Club" would be heard as usual at 9:30 a. m. while Tom Brenneman's "Breakfast in Hollywood" would be heard at 11 a. m.

Some popular Sunday evening shows will be changed and they include the following: Hall of Fame at 5 p. m.; Quiz Kids to 6:30 p. m.; Sunday evening hour to 7 p. m.; Winchell at 8 p. m. and Theater Guild at 9 p. m.

Dinah Shore, recovering from laryngitis, again will miss her NBC program at 8:30 tonight. Marilyn Miller will sub for her, and Groucho Marx will be guest. Dinah hopes to be recovered fully by next week, when she and Burns and Allen plan to consolidate their programs into a full hour for the combined guest appearance of Charles Boyer. . . . In contrast to the latest Hooper program report, which had put Bob Hope back in first to top Fibber and Molly again, the current CAB (Crossley) check continued Fibber in that position. It had him four points ahead of Hope.

TO THOSE WHO VOTED 'FOR' THE SCHOOL BOND ISSUE LAST NOVEMBER

A large majority of our citizens voted "For" the school bond issue in November. No doubt, the reason for endorsing the program was that you felt that Marion needed new and improved school buildings, not as such, but as an investment in Marion's youth —tomorrow's leaders. The new problems they must solve entitle them to the best opportunities we can give them. New and better schools add much to those opportunities.

You probably also feel that we have delayed improving our school buildings long enough—that if Marion is to grow and prosper, we've got to make ourselves able to take care of our present as well as an increased population—and attractive to the world.

To you we say, "Marion needs this program even more now than in November".

We believe this new and revised program is even stronger than the one which we almost passed last November. We are also unanimous in believing that a forward looking plan must be approved and that this is the time to do it.

Many folks objected to abandoning the present Harding High School for school purposes and converting it into a city building. That objection has been overcome—in a manner which will claim the approval of practically every forward looking Marion citizen.

It is proposed to convert Harding High School into a modern, up-to-date, expanded, VOCATIONAL division of our Marion schools. Many new courses in a wide variety of technical fields will be offered. Students will be taught technical subjects with real tools and materials under skilled local craftsmen.

This will give thousands of Marion students who do not wish to go to college the advantage of leaving high school with a trained technical education. They may then face their future employer with something of value to sell immediately.

This will also give thousands of ADULTS the opportunity to enter these courses after working hours.

Such a school will increase the earning power of many of our citizens and give them the sense of security which comes from specialized education.

All under graduate students will be able to participate in all Harding High School activities.

This change in the use of Harding High School is but one of a number of important improvements in the program. You will discover more as the campaign progresses.

Yes, You Who Voted "FOR" the School Bond Issue Last November Can Go Along With This One More Enthusiastically Than Ever

Herbert Seeks Ferguson Probe

G. O. P. Candidate Asks Governor To Investigate Activities of State Auditor.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 25—Former Lieutenant Governor Paul M. Herbert today demanded an official investigation of the office of State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

Elaborating on previous assertions that Ferguson was conducting a "racket," Herbert wrote Gov. Frank J. Lausche that he felt enough facts had been established "to require an investigation x x x by you, by the attorney general, or by a legislative committee."

"The auditor," he wrote, "is using the time and effort of employes of his office x x x in carrying on and in furtherance of his many and diversified personal financial and commercial activities."

Ferguson retorted today that he did not intend to "enter into further political controversy with Mr. Herbert to help him get cheap publicity for his campaign." The auditor added:

"It is quite apparent that Mr. Herbert's political star is fading—and fast. In my opinion, these last ridiculous charges are the final death rattle of the man passing into political oblivion."

Charges Unfairness

Herbert, currently campaigning for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, re-iterated his belief that the Joseph T. Ferguson Associates, Inc., was engaged in "unfair activities."

This firm was organized, he said, "to deal in surplus war commodities on behalf of political subdivisions, and also to sell surplus commodities to private firms and individuals."

"No commission is allowable on sales to political subdivisions, but a commission of 12.5 per cent is authorized and paid by the government on sales to private firms and individuals," Herbert asserted.

"A powerful political figure like Ferguson going after surplus war commodities could well make veterans' priority a vain and hollow phrase. Even private businessmen and veterans should have a fair and honest opportunity to secure surplus commodities out of the billions of dollars worth available, without paying a 12.5 per cent commission or tribute."

Says Papers Published

In addition to the surplus war commodities corporation, Herbert said that "out of the auditor's office there are now published at least five newspapers and a state wide news service."

"These papers, so I am advised, are the East Columbus News, the South Side Sun, East Side News, Bexley Herald and a Reynoldsburg newspaper.

"The editor and publisher of these newspapers and news service," he continued, "is on the state payroll at $278.75 a month. Such an operation is grossly unfair to residential newspapers that have a pretty hard time making ends meet."

CHINA

found Communists had taken over the air field.

Lt. Gen. Chao Chia-Hsiang, chief of staff of the Government's northeastern command, told Hampson "the generalissimo (Chiang Kai-shek) is very concerned about the situation." Chao flew to Peiping from Chungking yesterday and expected to proceed to Mukden.

Jorgensen further told Wilson that Chinese officials in Harbin had hoped the Russians would delay their withdrawal until government troops could arrive. But the Soviets, mindful of earlier criticism abroad when they delayed their Manchurian evacuation, methodically went ahead with their withdrawal preparations.

Use Japs, Koreans

In Peiping, Chao told Hampson that 38,000 experienced Japanese troops and 40,000 Koreans bore the brunt of the fighting for the Communists at both Changchun, the Manchurian capital, and Szepongkai. Communists captured Changchun last week and forced the government's first army to bypass Szepingkai in its futile effort to save the national force at Changchun.

Chao asserted that the Communists, lacking experience in positional warfare, used Japanese and Koreans to defend their first lines. He said his information came from captured Japanese.

Chao said government casualties at Changchun exceeded 4,000, including more than 2,000 civilians.

OWU SPEAKER URGES CHURCH FOOD DRIVE

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., April 25—Beef for the needy of Europe is more important than beautification for the churches of America, Dr. Walter Van Kirk of New York told a lecture audience at Ohio Wesleyan university last night.

"There is something far more urgent right now than the $600,000,000 building program already under way in American churches," the executive secretary of the Federal Council of Churches, declared.

"A half billion dollars worth of seed corn, fertilizer and farm implements shipped to Europe would be far more humane and Christ-like."

"If American Christians set aside even a part of the church building and beautification program and sent boatload after boatload of cows overseas," Dr. Van Kirk declared, "there would be a greater eagerness on the part of the hungry people of the world to praise the name of America and the common Lord."

"People who are starving have neither the strength nor the will to bring order out of chaos," he continued. "Food comes first.

"The world can't be saved by blowing ecclesiastical trumpets. What is needed is a revolutionary strategy of Christian advance, a more intelligent coordination of Christian effort and a more daring and comprehensive program of Christian conquest."

The New Yorker, prominent church writer and radio commentator, was one of five speakers on the annual Merrick lecture series. His talk concluded the three-day meeting.

OPA

amendments which OPA sponsors call "crippling."

Carey noted the N.A.M.'s anti-OPA campaign came at a time when 1,500,000 mass production workers were on strike. He commented:

"A suspicious person might decide that the forces attacking OPA had more than a casual interest in forcing the strikes."

"Every inflationist in this country," Carey continued, "is now trying to hide behind the wage increases which have been made, and to blame labor for the price increases that he has been able to wheedle or bludgeon out of OPA.

"We refuse to be the whipping boy for this crime."

Carey said that much of the pressure "for destruction of price control" was based on wage increases in mass production industries.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) expressed the opinion to reporters today that OPA was losing out on efforts to retain one of its practices—the maximum average price regulation. It was designed to increase the production of low-cost clothes.

Mrs. James A. Reed, widow of a senator and now head of the Donnelly Garment Co. in Kansas City, dealt what Taft termed the killing blow to this regulation.

Mrs. Reed, in a spirited appearance before the committee yesterday—backed with an exhibit of scarce cotton dresses which made women spectators gasp—testified:

"This regulation has been in effect for 11 months supposedly to increase the supply of low-priced dresses. Actually it decreases their supply."

Carey's appearance on the stand follows a rough going-over handed the OPA by the N.A.M., the United States Chamber of Commerce and other business group witnesses in the last few days.

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday called for an end to price controls over everything but rents by Oct. 31. It suggested that rent control be ended by next March 31.

Fritz Kuhn Released from German Prison

By The Associated Press

ASPERG, GERMANY, April 25—Fritz Kuhn, former leader of the German-American bund, was released from grim Asperg prison this afternoon, a free man in the ruined "New Germany" he supported during Hitler's days of power.

Well dressed in a grey suit, the 50-year-old Kuhn walked from the fortress-like internment camp to a truck which took him to nearby Ludwigsberg.

BIG FOUR

Byrnes took to Paris with him for today's opening of the foreign ministers' conference designed to break the big-power deadlock over European peace settlements.

The plan, however, has divided the secretary's advisors. In support of it are said to be Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson, Counselor Benjamin Cohen and Assistant Secretary Will Clayton.

List of Foes

Those described as opposed include Assistant Secretary James Dunn and Freeman Matthews, chief of the department's office of European affairs. These two and Cohen are in Paris with Byrnes.

The heart of the proposal is that a United Nations regional office be opened at Geneva to include a European economic council functioning under the UN economic and social council which has headquarters in New York.

The task of the Geneva council would be to tackle European economic problems on a continent-wide basis instead of according to national political boundaries or the geography of river valleys and port locations. Four sub-agencies would handle (1) fuel and power, (2) trade and industry, (3) transport of all sorts, and (4) food.

The plan's actual introduction will depend on whether other and more established means of breaking the peace treaty deadlock are successful.

Russia On One Side

This deadlock chiefly involves Russia on the one hand and the United States and Britain on the other.

Exponents of the American proposal contend that at least a part of Russia's objection to peace treaty settlements favored by the United States and Britain is that Russia is suspicious of their objectives.

One of the main specific provisions of the plan is that in order to facilitate the reconstruction of Europe and the revival of commerce and trade, tariff barriers should be removed and an absolutely free flow of goods permitted. Exponents of this idea say they doubt that Europe ever again would impose tariffs if they could once be removed.

* * *

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 25—British diplomatic quarters received with surprise today a report from Washington that Secretary of State Byrnes might propose to the Paris foreign ministers conference that all European countries discard tariffs as part of an overall scheme to tackle Europe's economic problems on a continent-wide basis.

The first reaction from sources close to the British government was that it is not a suitable time for such a move, although it was acknowledged that the economic question might be used as a wedge to break the big power deadlock in Europe.

Maddened Grey Fox Attacks Ohio Child

By The Associated Press

MARTINS FERRY, O., April 25—A grey fox, apparently rabid, attacked a 2-year-old girl yesterday on the porch of her farm home and pursued her into the house, where it was killed.

The victim, Carol Mae Holt, was bitten about the face and one lip was pierced. She was administered an anti-rabic vaccine and today the fox was being examined to ascertain if it had rabies.

The incident occurred on Rocky Fork, 15 miles from Powhatan, in a remote section of Belmont county.

The child was playing on the porch when the fox attacked her. She ran into the living room. Her mother Anna, who was nursing a seven-week-old baby, looked down to see Carol Mae on the floor and the fox biting her.

Mrs. Holt, who weighs only 90 pounds, grabbed a chair and beat the fox to death.

TRUMAN PAYS FINAL RESPECTS TO STONE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25—President Truman led the nation today in paying its final solemn respects to Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone.

Mr. Truman revised his vacation cruise plans to leave the presidential yacht Williamsburg at Quantico, Va., and motor back to the capital for the funeral services (at 2 p. m. EST) in the Washington cathedral.

Church officials made arrangements to handle 2,000 persons expected to throng the great Gothic edifice on one of the capital's hills.

Honorary pallbearers were the associate justices of the supreme court who were sitting with Chief Justice Stone when he was stricken fatally Monday. These included all of the high court's members except Justice Jackson, who is in Germany for the war crimes trials.

Three retired members of the court, Chief Justice Hughes and Justices McReynolds and Roberts, also have been designated honorary pallbearers.

An old friend of the Stone family, Rev. Fleming James of Sewanee, Tenn., came here to conduct the brief Episcopal church funeral service.

There will be no sermon or eulogy in the church rites, expected to take only about 20 minutes. A private burial service will follow in Rock Creek cemetery.

4 CONVICTS FOLLOW VISITORS TO FREEDOM

By The Associated Press

WARREN, O., April 25—Four prisoners who escaped from the Trumbull county jail by following a group of church people from the cell block were sought today throughout east central Ohio.

The sheriff's office identified the jail breakers as Alex Losiewicz, 19, of Youngstown; Clarence F. Russell, 17, of Youngstown; Frank T. Soda, 26, of Warren and William A. Daumer, 29, of Niles.

Turnkey Jack Cronin said he had opened one of the double doors leading from the cell block to allow a group of church people, who had conducted regular Wednesday night services in the jail, to leave.

He thought he locked the first door before opening the second, but, he added, Daumer placed something against the lock of the one door to prevent it being fastened. When he opened the outer door, Cronin said, the four prisoners fled.

The sheriff's office said Losiewicz had served part of a 15-month sentence in Jackson, Mich., prison, and had been held as a parole violator following a Goldie Road stickup near Youngstown.

Russell had been referred from the probate court to common pleas court in connection with two holdups in Girard, the sheriff's office said; Soda was held on a breaking and entering charge, and Daumer was held for the grand jury under charges of breaking and entering and shooting with intent to wound or kill Walter Rathburn of Mineral Ridge.

Mrs. Roosevelt Sees Peace in Due Time

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 25—A lasting peace will be achieved by slow degrees, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt asserted here last night.

It is up to the United States to take the leadership in making the United Nations work, she told delegates to the national convention of the Women's Action Committee for Victory and Lasting Peace.

"We haven't suffered as much as the others," she added. "We have greater strength and greater productive capacity. Therefore it is up to us to show leadership and patience."

RAILROADERS DEBATE NATIONWIDE STRIKE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 25 — The possibility of a nationwide railroad strike by May 18 arose today as officials of two rail brotherhoods discussed the report of a fact-finding board.

General chairmen of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Trainmen were in the second day of a two-day meeting to discuss the report, but their only announcement was that a decision probably would not be reached until late today.

The fact-finding board's report recommended a wage increase of 16 cents an hour, which it said was equivalent to $1.22 a day, a boost of 18 per cent. The two brotherhoods had asked increases averaging 25 per cent, and 45 changes in working rules.

Labor observers noted that the unions' second demand was not met, and that the board recommended several working rules advocated by the railroad. The brotherhoods' past attitude has been strongly in opposition to the carriers' proposals for rule changes.

Alternatives to the strike were further negotiations with the carriers or acceptance of the board's report. In the event a strike goes into effect the government could take over operation of the railroads.

The two rail brotherhoods have a combined membership of approximately 293,000, about 15 per cent of all the railroad employes in the country. A walkout by the 15 per cent, however, would paralyze the entire country's rail transportation system, both brotherhoods have predicted freely.

A strike call actually has been in effect for more than a month, but was suspended under the procedures of the Railway Labor act. Appointment of the fact-finding board by President Truman automatically delayed the strike for 30 days. The law also specifies a 30-day wait after the report of the fact-finding board, which in this case was made April 18.

TRANSPORT STRIKE AT DETROIT ENDS

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 25—A thousand Detroit employes of Railway Express Agency, Inc., were back at work today after a three-day walkout as a federal fact-finding board studied a wage dispute that has threatened to idle 65,000 express workers throughout the nation.

The Detroit workers, members of the AFL railway and Steamship Clerks Brotherhood, voted late yesterday to return to work pending receipt of a report from President Truman's fact-finding board regarding the 16-cent wage increase they demanded.

The President appointed the panel yesterday under the Railway Mediation Act in an effort to prevent a scheduled country-wide strike. After the presidential announcement, A. J. Mazanec, general chairman of the New York district board for the union, said some 12,000 of the company's New York employes would remain at work pending the fact-finders decision.

Friday morning had been set as the time for the national walkout, with New York workers scheduled to leave their jobs at 12:01 a. m. today.

Some 400 Detroit workers attended the meeting here, and Richard R. Kowalski, an official of the union's local 2075, said they voted to leave their jobs again if the 16-cent increase was not granted.

The same raise is sought by the union on a national basis.

ROXAS FORGES AHEAD IN PHILIPPINE VOTE

Roxas 333,529.
Osmena 253,247.

There still was no confirmation of Osmena headquarters' earlier claims that the rural vote would give him the presidency for the Philippines' first four years of independence. Roxas had added 2,585 votes to his lead in the last 561 precincts reporting.

Legal troubles climaxed the outstanding unsuccessful campaign of the third candidate, Dr. Hilario Camino Moncado. As early returns promised him less than one per cent of the total vote, the people's court added to his sorrows by scheduling for Monday his arraignment as a collaborator.

Ohioan Slain at Home of Estranged Wife

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., April 25—A quarrel at the home of his estranged wife ended last night in the fatal shooting of Ned Pritchard, 31, formerly of Van Wert.

Pritchard was felled by a shotgun blast in a scuffle with Glenn Riley, 27, brother of Mrs. Pritchard.

Sheriff's deputies questioned Riley and then released him pending an investigation by Coroner Harry Lewis.

The wife, Ida Mae, recently filed suit for divorce. The slaying occurred four miles west of here.

Best War Memorial I Know

There's an old war memorial in our town that I like to stop and look at now and then.

Back in 1865, folks gathered up all the bitter relics of battle and put them in a pile: cannon, battered rifles, broken swords, and rusted bayonets. Some of them from our side, some captured from the enemy.

They melted them down, and from this litter of war sprung a monument to friendship, tolerance and understanding—a promise that the bitterness and hatred were forgotten.

Since then, there've been kinds of disagreements in [illegible] country, big and little. Prohibit[illegible] was one—and there was plenty bloodshed, misery and grief [illegible] the problem was resolved.

But from where I sit, it's part the greatness of America that remain a united country. We m[illegible] disagree as individuals—but, [illegible] cepting that difference of opini[illegible] we can live in tolerance and m[illegible] tual respect.

Army To Inaugurate Twilight College for Its Scientists

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., April 25 — The Army's Air Materiel Command at Wright Field will inaugurate a twilight school at the field on June 18, the first of its kind.

Classes will meet in the late afternoon. The technical-scientific school represents the Army's first move to put into effect Secretary Patterson's policy to obtain trained scientists for peacetime development of national defenses.

The scientists and technicians who were largely responsible during the war for development of such things as radar, jet propulsion and rockets have been leaving to take much higher paying jobs in industry. To plug this gap, the twilight school plans to offer courses to young men in the military and engineering laboratories that will lead to degrees, such as doctorates, as attractive as they might win by studies outside.

In this way it is hoped to keep a nucleus and give the military forces the scientifically trained personnel that have not been available in sufficient numbers in peacetime.

The Army announcement says Ohio State university will send 25 instructors from its graduate schools to conduct classes and laboratory work. Brig. Gen. L. C. Craigie, chief of the engineering division, expects an enrollment of 900 students from Wright Field when the school starts.

The courses will be in aeronautical engineering, chemical engineering, mechanical engineering, physics, physiology, psychology and mathematics. There will be masters' degrees as well as doctorates. "All the studies will be associated with work under way at Wright Field. Students will be allowed six hours study a week. They will pay small fees. The Wright Field engineering division expects to be able to sell them textbooks at cost.

CANDIDATE FILES SUIT AGAINST ELYRIA EDITOR

Charges Name Attached to Bank Robber Picture.

By The Associated Press

ELYRIA, O., April 25—Charles H. Hubbell of Lakewood, candidate for nomination for judge of the Ohio supreme court, yesterday brought a $100,000 damage suit against Joseph E. Nueger of Elyria, identified as editor of a magazine named "Here in Ohio."

In his petition, filed in Lorain county common pleas court, Hubbell asserted Nueger printed in the April issue of his magazine a picture of a bank robber erroneously identified in the picture caption as Hubbell.

Nueger issued the following statement on the suit:

"Mr. Hubbell's past efforts to obtain publicity have been unique, not to say bizarre. The suit is almost self-explanatory. It is perfectly obvious that this is but another attempt on the part of Mr. Hubbell to get his name before the public in the hope that his ninth entry into a political primary may result in his nomination.

"It is quite surprising that such a persistent self-promoter as Mr. Hubbell hasn't up until now supplied the different newspapers and picture services with an up to date picture of himself."

3 MOTORISTS ESCAPE AS AUTO HITS BULL

Accident Happens on Route 23 South of Marion.

The occupants of a Columbus automobile escaped injury at [illegible] p. m. yesterday when the car in which they were riding struck a bull on route 23 three miles south of Marion.

The driver of the automobile was William W. Johnson, 35, of 665 Hague avenue, Columbus, and the other occupants were his wife, Vera, and brother Harold E. Johnson, 739½ North High street, Columbus.

The state highway patrol said Johnson was traveling south when the bull, belonging to Henry W. Miller, walked in front of his automobile. A northbound automobile prevented Johnson from avoiding the animal, the patrol reported.

The right front fender, grill and front end of Johnson's car was badly damaged, but patrolmen said no one was injured. The bull was not believed to be seriously hurt.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

STONE'S RITES DELAY SENATE LOAN ACTION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25—Another senate recess cost the filibuster-threatened $3,750,000,000 British loan proposal an additional 24 hours delay today.

The senate adjourned without action Tuesday out of respect to the late Chief Justice Stone. Today's recess was to permit members to attend Stone's funeral.

Administration leaders, backing the loan legislation, showed evidence of increasing concern as the days pased with only talk and no votes.

Other pressing legislation is piled up behind te loan, and unless the jam is broken next week it probably will be necessary to lay the loan resolution aside in favor of a bill to extend Selective Service. The draft law expires May 15.

Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) maintained an over-the-recess hold on the floor to combine the anti-loan speech he began early yesterday afternoon. The Mississippian has not announced how long he intends to speak, but he dropped hints he would not be through before Monday.

Bilbo yesterday referred to the loan as "a Christmas present" for the British, predicting it never would be repaid, and said he was "tired of being a sucker" to his "British cousins." He advocated using the money to pay bonuses up to $4,500 each to American war veterans.

FUNERAL TIME CHANGED

The day and time of funeral services for Leonard Ruhl of 132 Dix avenue have been changed so that children from out of the state may arrive for the services. The rites will be conducted Saturday at 10 a. m., instead of Friday afternoon, in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue, it was announced. Burial will be at Prospect. Mr. Ruhl died in City hospital Tuesday.

27 HERE FOR SAFETY DRIVE

Law Enforcement Officers of Six Counties Plan Check on Automobiles.

Twenty-seven law enforcement officers from the six counties in zone, four met in the Eagles hall Wednesday afternoon to discuss plans for the annual traffic safety check. The check will be held throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico from May 15 to June 30. Officers from Marion, Wyandot, Hardin, Crawford, Morrow and Logan counties were present.

The meeting was called by Lt. Apel of the Cleveland police department, state coordinator of the International association of Chiefs of Police. William E. Marks and LeRoy Retterer, Marion chief of police and Marion county sheriff, respectively, presided.

Under the program, all cars stopped for any reason will be checked for brakes, horn, windshield wipers, headlights, tail lights, stop lights, tires, and other appliances necessary for safe driving. Motorists will be ordered to correct any defects.

Bromfield Hits U. S. Spoiling of Lands

By The Associated Press

DALLAS, Texas, April 25—Louis Bromfield, novelist, told a concluding session of the American Planning and Civic association here last night that no country in world history had ever destroyed its agricultural lands and forests as has the United States.

Bromfield urged a halt to what he termed "costly and dangerous mismanagement of our natural resources." His address was made at a joint dinner-meeting of the Association and Friends of The Land.

Dr. Jonathan Forman of Columbus, O., an official of Friends of the Land, spoke on the importance of raising foodstuffs in chemically-balanced soils.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., April 25—You'd hardly expect to find a heavyweight fighter's training camp in this semi-secluded spot that is liable to be overrun with kids or holiday seekers from Manhattan at any given moment... But Bruce Woodcock, British heavyweight champion, and his manager, Tom Hurst, can scatter original ideas about training around as freely as they scatter their "halfbes" and maybe this is one of them. Woodcock does his heavy training about 5 p. m., instead of several hours earlier as most boxers do.. He got the habit during the war when he was working in a factory and couldn't train earlier and now Hurst doesn't see any reason for altering that routine... "And I'll tell you what," Tom adds, "if we stay around here during the summer I'll have him train at night. There's no use using up his energy during the hottest part of the day.

Bad Omen

The Briton's one complaint about Bear Mountain as a training site is that in the historic Hudson valley he can't find a place to do his roadwork without running across signs saying: "This is where the Britin were defeated."..."Hi say," asks Bruce, "didn't we ever give them a go?"

Good Publicity

The Penn relays next Friday and Saturday have had the best advance sale in some 15 years and are doing five times better at the gate than last year. Tide-trimmer Joe Laurium, predicting a turnout of 35 to 40,000 if the weather is good Saturday, figures it means only that people want some place to go and don't care much whether it's a track meet or a race rack.

MARYSVILLE, April 25—With more than half a century of work with saws to his credit without a serious mishap, Jacob Ell of East Fourth street Wednesday had the misfortune to lose the part of his left thumb above the joint when it came in contact with a rip saw at the Davis Chair Co. plant.

Cardinal Baseball Banquet Now Open To Lady Fans, Too

Women baseball fans will be admitted to the first annual baseball banquet at Masonic Temple, Monday, it was announced today. The banquet, scheduled at 6:30 p. m., was originally slated to be strictly "stag" but the sponsoring inter-club council has received so many complaints from irate women fans, it has relented on its earlier decision.

George M. Trautman, vice-president and general manager of the Detroit Tigers will make the principal address and Marion Manager Wally Schang will present the 1946 Cardinals.

Tickets are on sale at $1.50 at Anson Pickerel and Markert and Lewis stores. They can also be purchased from Municipal Court Judge W. Dexter Hazen, president of the local club.

Mr. Bangham's talk was a ...allenge to the veterans to give ...erious thought to the present ... problems, and to shoulder their share of the responsibility in the preservation of the country's present form of government. "We can be proud of the boys and girls who won the war—we now have the job of winning the peace," he said. Pointing out that today's thinking and problems are different, he said that as Americans "we must remember that good government comes up from the people, not from the top down." Small nations are looking to us in the solving of world problems and we are being challenged to prove that we can make our system work, he said. Support of the principles that have made our form of government work, was emphasized by Mr.Bangham, and he urged the strengthening of American home life in solving the growing juvenile delinquency problem. Young people today are turning to the church for strength and we can take a lesson from our youth, he stated.

Mr. Allen presented a gold button to Mr. Kinnear in recognition of his having enrolled 14 or more members in the voiture annually for a period of five years and Mr. Kinnear, as head of the county organization, presented buttons to the members present who were eligible for the award this year. Members of the voiture who have enrolled 14 or more members ruring the last year are: Marvin D. MacDonald, C. M. Rogers, Gerald Messenger and W. E. Orcutt. Mr. Allen also is eligible for a five-year button and will receive it at a later date.

The following World War II veterans were introduced at the dinner: Gerald R. Messenger, Charles Kissner, Ralph Cheney, Dan MacDonald and Gene O'Connor.

Dinner music was furnished by Miss Virginia Grover, pianist. Arrangements for the affair were in charge of T. E. Kinnear, Dr. Harry Hoopes, Al Dripps and Keith B. Ridgway, reception; W. E. Orcutt, C. PROGRESS REPORTED IN CONCERT DRIVE

Ticket Sales Ahead of Similar Date Last Year.

A workers report from the Marion Community Concert association headquarters today was that memberships are "coming in very well," with campaign results reported ahead of those of the similar date last year.

Persons interested in taking out memberships this year, who were not members last season, are urged by the association board to stop in at headquarters at the H. Schaffner Co. store, even if campaign workers have not happened to contact them as yet.

Once a membership subscription has been made, a person holding a membership card is eligible to attend concerts here, and in addition, is entitled to attend, on his Marion membership, Community Concert presentations in Bucyrus and Galion. Campaigns in the two neighboring cities have closed and artists have been selected for their series, it was announced.

The membership drive here will close promptly at 5:30 p. m. Saturday, it was stressed, memberships can not be secured after that, and there will be no tickets sold at door on the night of a concert performance.

Inspection Held By DeMolay Chapter

Semi - annual inspection for Marion Chapter No. 288, DeMolay, was held Wednesday night at the Masonic temple with Robert W. Solinger, district deputy, as inspecting officer. Five candidates from Marion and two from Delaware county chapter were initiated. Visitors included a delegation from the Delaware chapter, three advisors of the Delaware county group, and Charles Smith, a past master councilor from a Kentucky chapter who is now a resident of Marion. A donation of $5 was voted to the cancer drive, and it was voted to enter the softball league. Announcement was made that E. Robert Chable of Cleveland, past executive secretary for the state of Ohio for DeMolay, will be ordained a Baptist minister in Cleveland May 5. Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the DeMolay Mothers circle.

fare fund for similar wear and exhaustion of humans."

Lewis asserted he was informed by a "high government official" efforts were being made to bring U. S. Steel President Benjamin Fairless into the soft coal negotiations.

In Washington, a government labor official who declined use of his name said efforts were being made to bring Fairless into the coal picture along with other top industrialists who might influence the contract talks.

Lewis hinted that contract proposals in the anthracite industry —when negotiations begin in New York about May 16—would be the same as those sought in the bituminous field.

The current anthracite contract expires May 31. Delegates are empowered to file a strike notice under the Smith-Connally act if they deem it necessary.

Discussion of New Translation Of Bible To Be Heard Here

Oberlin Bible Teacher To Address Sunday School Rally.

Plans are nearing completion for a countywide interdenominational Sunday school rally next Sunday afternoon when Dr. Clarence Tucker Craig, educational representative for the Revised Standard version, new translation of the New Testament, of the International Council of Religious Education, will be in Marion. A visual education clinic will be a part of the rally.

The rally, sponsored by the Marion County Council of Churches, will be held in Trinity Baptist church beginning at 2:30. Dr. Craig, a member of the faculty of Oberlin college, will speak on "Translating the Bible for Our Day" from first hand experience. He was selected by the International Council of Religious Education to work with 21 other scholars on that project, and he will tell the story of the task of producing the new version of the New Testament.

Choir To Sing

Opening the rally will be music by the Harding High school a capella choir, directed by L. G. Jones. Dr. Craig will speak at 3 p. m., and at 4 the visual education clinic will be in charge of Miss Lydia Ebel, supervisor of religious education in the Marion public schools. Rev. R. L. Krepts of Millersburg, O., a specialist in that field, will demonstrate various methods and equipment for visual education. Special help will be given churches wanting to know first steps in building a program of education by use of colored slides, film strips, sound motion pictures and other visual aids, Rev. Eldred Johnston, president of the Council of Churches, announced.

Dr. Craig, son of Alfred E. Craig, a Methodist minister, was graduated from Morningside college, Sioux City, Iowa, in 1915. His father was president of the college. His theological training was taken at Boston University School of Theology, and graduate study followed at Boston and Harvard, and at Basel, Switzerland, and Berlin. He served pastorates in Cincinnati and Brooklyn and in 1928, he was called to the New Testament chair at the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology.

Has Taught At Garrett

Dr. Craig has taught in summer sessions at Garrett Biblical institute and at Union Theological seminary. He has been lecturer at the Minister's conference at Chautauqua institution several seasons, and has spoken at many summer religious conferences. In 1943, he delivered the Shaffer lectures at the Yale Divinity school on "Jesus in the Faith of Men."

He has served on the Worship commission of the Federal Council and the Methodist Commission on Rituals and Worship. "We have an Altar" and "From the Last Supper to the Lord's Supper," are among his writings. As a member of the American Theological Committee of the World Council of Churches, he drafted the statement which is published in their report on "The Nature of the Church."

In the field of religious education, he has prepared articles and study courses, "Jesus in Our Teaching" and "The Use of the Bible in Teaching" and "One God, One World," was written for the Student Volunteer movement to present to college students and missionary message of the Bible.

Dr. Craig is now serving as Editor of one of the volumes being prepared for the Interseminary conference in June, 1947.

In the field of the New Testament, he has published many articles and two text books which are widely used, "The Beginning of Christianity" and "The Study of the New Testament" included.

Dr. Craig has served on the Standard Bible (Revision) committee since 1937, and since the death of Dr. James Moffatt has assisted in the final preparations for the publication of the Revised Standard Version of the New Testament.

MINING GROUP URGES INCREASED CEILINGS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25—The American Mining Congress yesterday urged increased ceiling prices on zinc, lead and copper.

Julian D. Conover, secretary of the organization, told the senate banking committee prices should be increased and federal subsidies reduced. The committee is considering legislation to extend price controls a year beyond June 30.

Conover declared legislation introduced by Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) and other western senators, to provide for increased prices and reduced subsidies, should be enacted.

This would not raise the ceiling prices much, he contended, and would be helpful in increasing poduction badly needed for the construction and other industries.

Conover said there were inequities in the payment of subsidies and that although they were intended to stimulate production they had developed into "a means of profit control."

Indorsing the McFarland proposal, he estimated there would result the following increases in ceiling prices: lead, from the present ceiling of 6.5 cents to 8.15 cents a pound; copper, from 12 cents to 15 cents; zinc, from 8.25 cents to 9.9 cents. The increase in the cost of lead used in an automobile, he said, would be 66 cents.

O. W. Bilharz, president of the Tri-State Zinc and Lead Ore Producers association, testified in support of the subsidy payments plan.

Bilharz said the Tri-State area was a major source of zinc and an important source of lead in the last two wars. He added it could not continue to be a great source without the subsidies.

OPA AUTHORIZES HIKE IN CIGARET PRICES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25—OPA last night announced an increase in retail price ceilings for multiple-pack, carton and vending machine sales of cigarets.

The increases, granted because of a 50 per cent increase in tobacco costs since the start of the war, are:

A half cent a pack on sales of two packs, four, six and so on.

One cent a pack on vending machine sales.

Five cents on a carton of 10 packs.

There will be no increase, OPA said, for single packs.

Affects Cut-Rates

The half cent multiple pack increase applies wherever cut-rate prices of these sales are in effect. For example, stores now selling popular brands for 16 cents a pack, two for 31 cents, are being allowed to increase the price of two packs for 32 cents.

The price for a single pack remains uncharged.

Popular brands covered by this action include Camels, Chesterfields, Lucky Strikes, Philip Morris, Old Golds and Raleighs.

So-called "economy" brands, now under a uniform ceiling of 13 cents a pack, two packs for 25 cents, are being advanced to a uniform price of 13 cents a pack for all sales. This is an increase of a half cent a pack on multiple-pack sales.

The economy brands include Avalons, Marvels, Twenty Grand and Wings. The increase applies on both regular and king size cigarets.

The popular brand increase will apply on all makes not specifically classed as popular or economy, OPA said.

Manufacturers were given a price boost of 25 cents a thousand cigarets.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Human Air-Conditioning

Air-conditioning is one of the most recent attainments of modern engineering, yet long before man had come far enough along the path of scientific progress to devise such a thing himself, he was enjoying its benefits.

The most commonly thought of entry to the organ of smell, is its really equally important as an air-conditioner. Its mechanism is "set" by nature automatically to filter, dampen and warm every breath of air you breathe.

Thus, the infinitely delicate structure of the lungs (and the interior of the body generally) is protected against germs, dirt and extremes temperatures.

If nasal passages become blocked and this important function interfered with, it is easy to understand that you are going to have trouble and suffer discomfort. Perhaps the most common cause of blocking of the nose is what is called deviation of the nasal septum. This means that the septum is too far over to one or the other side.

The septum is the partition which separates the two cavities of the nose. If the septum is pushed to the out of position that it blocks the nasal passages, as a rule nothing need be done.

According to Dr. W. Ogilvy Reid of England, a test can be carried out to determine if an operation for straightening the nasal septum will be of any benefit. This is done by shrinking the lining membrane of the nose using cocaine and epinephrine. If after doing this the patient can breathe more freely and his discomfort is relieved, the operation for straightening the septum will probably be of some help to him.

Dr. Reid believes this operation is a delicate one and should be carried out only by experts. He claims that a number of patients who have deviations in the front part of the head are not suffering from sinus infection but, rather, from a deviation of the septum.

The presence of the septum in other parts of the nose causes pain which is located over the frontal sinuses in the forehead. If shrinking the lining membrane of the nose, thus opening the nasal passages, relieves this pain it may be presumed that the operation on the septum will be of benefit to the patient.

Another cause of blocking of the nasal passages is an overgrowth of the lining membrane over one of the three bones located in the side known as the turbinates. Partial removal of one of the turbinates will give relief in these cases.

Great care is used in all operations on the nose not to remove more of the lining membrane than is necessary, since this membrane is the chief of the nose's important air-conditioning mechanism.

Still another cause of blocking of the nasal passages is the growth of tiny tumors called polyps. These polyps can be removed surgically but they have a tendency to recur.

When blocking of the nasal passages occurs a careful study by a specialist in such disorders to determine the cause should be carried out before treatment is decided upon.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D.F.M.: What treatment would you suggest for round shoulders? I am twenty-four years old.

Answer: It is possible that exercises may help to improve your posture. The wearing of a cast or brace might be helpful. An orthopedic specialist might be consulted.

Old Weekly Publishes on Hot Dog Paper

PHILADELPHIA, April 25—The Friends Intelligencer, 102-year-old weekly published by the Society of Friends, found a new detour around the newsprint shortage.

"Then, one paper supply man said 'we have some hot dog paper—which is used between layers of hot dogs when they are packed to absorb the moisture.'

"We accepted the offer and went to press on hot dog paper."

Art of Chinese Cooking

AN OLD CHINESE CUSTOM . . . Egg rolls, native style . . .

* * *

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

For many years the Chinese have made an art of cooking. They never, for instance, have over-cooked vegetables, a matter about which the light has dawned blazingly upon us only within the last couple of decades. There is much we can learn from them which will improve our nutritional standards and help us conserve food to prevent starvation in China and other parts of the world.

It is always difficult to extract recipes from a Chinese chef. Perhaps it is because Ruby Foo's restaurant in New York (where magnificent examples of the Chinese cooking art are served) is run by an American woman, though the chefs are all Chinese, that I was able to obtain some of their recipes for you.

Meals in a Chinese restaurant are likely to start with egg-roll. This really is easy to make. Just start with the thinnest pancake batter you can make (at Ruby Foo's they use rice flour for this). Fry paper-thin pancakes on one side only. Place them on a flat surface to cool. When they are cool place on each of them a heap of finely ground shrimp, pork, chicken and Chinese water chestnuts (if you're lucky enough to be able to shop in a "Chinatown," otherwise eliminate these). Roll them up and fry them to a golden, crisp brown on all sides, and serve with Chinese mustard.

Shrimps are often served at the same time with the egg-roll. The recipe below is a dish for the gods:

Shrimps with Bacon

16 fresh large shrimp, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon water, 8 pieces sliced bacon, 4 tablespoons oil or fat.

Shell, clean and remove veins from the shrimp. Blend the egg and water. Cut bacon slices in half. Wrap each shrimp in a piece of bacon and dip in the egg mixture. Melt fat in frying pan. Place shrimp in pan and fry over a moderate flame, browning on both sides. Pour off all but a little of the fat before frying the next batch.

Won Ton soup usually follows the first course. This is the best I've ever tasted.

Won Ton Soup

1½ cups sifted rice flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons water, ½ pound raw or cooked pork, shrimp or lobster, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 2 teaspoons boktoy or scallions, 4 cups chicken, 4 cups chicken bouillon, ½ cup celery, ½ cup cooked meat (optional), 1 cup (tightly packed) raw spinach.

Mix flour and salt. Warm the egg slightly and add it to first mixture. Now add water and stir. Turn mixture out on a floured board and knead until smooth. Cover and let stand about 15 minutes. Roll out paper-thin. Cut into 3-inch squares. Chop pork, shrimp or lobster very fine. Add salt, pepper and finely chopped bok-toy or scallions. Place 1 teaspoon of mixture in center of each square. Fold in half diagonally and press edges together with a fork. Cook in a quart of boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Place bouillon in a saucepan and bring to the boil. Add celery and cook 5 minutes over a moderate flame. Add cooked meat, finely shredded, if desired. Clean spinach, remove stems and add to stock. Cook 1 minute. Pour over cooked "won ton" (filled, cooked squares) in soup bowls. Place strips of cooked pork and sliced egg on top and serve at once.

Lobster Cantonese

4 baby lobsters (or 2 cans lobster meat), 6 tablespoons cooking oil, 1 pound chopped pork, 2 eggs, 1 cup chopped scallions, 4 pieces garlic, 2 tablespoons ground soybeans, 2 cups soup stock, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, diluted in water, 2 eggs, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, ½ cup water.

Clean lobsters. Cut into eighths and crack claws. Cook in boiling water for 5 minutes. Heat oil in frying pan. Mix together in a bowl, pork, 2 eggs, scallions, garlic, ground soybeans, soup stock and 4 tablespoons diluted cornstarch. Put this mixture and the lobster into a deep frying pan, cover and cook over a moderate flame about 12 minutes. Beat the other two eggs and add. Cook over a high flame for 2 more minutes, stirring constantly. Add the 2 tablespoons cornstarch and ¼ cup water and cook a few more minutes, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens.

Marion Picked to Finish Up Third Behind Zanesville and Dayto

Ohio State Loop Scribes Forecast Wide Open Battle

Marion will finish third in the Ohio State league race behind Zanesville and Dayton, according to the returns of a league sports writers poll just released by OSL President Frank M. Cooley. Points were figured on a basis of eight for each first place vote, seven for second and so down the line.

Zanesville led with 128 points to 123 for Dayton and 124 for Marion. Marion and Zanesville tied for the honors number of first place votes, each receiving eight votes to the seven cast. Both received eight votes for last two positions.

Wide Open Race

In any case Marion is conceded a fine chance in the wide open race for league honors.

There's another heavy drop to the next trio of spots. The Springfield Giants edge out Newark with 111 the Richmond Roses are tied with 104 and the defending champion Middletown Reds are knotted at 102. Newark's Moundsmen gained 22 points for seventh place and the Lima Terriers are last with 66.

So much at sea did the pressmen pilots find themselves in trying to dope out the race, that six of the 8 O.S.L. clubs received votes for every position from first to last, and in one case, Lima failed to get at least one vote for the pennant. Lima also was not ranked for third and Marion is left out on seventh. The rest of them ran the gamut. Luna may be a little conservative this year.

Dayton led with seven votes to win, down the stretch, while Zanesville had six. Marion and Middletown, three each, Springfield and Richmond two apiece and Newark one.

Dayton Gets 7 Votes

Dayton, one of the two new members of the league this year received seven votes for first place, however, to 6 for Zanesville.

Behind the three leaders, the teams were lumped to finish in this order Springfield, Richmond [illegible] M. Middletown, Newark and Lima.

Richmond is the dark horse member of the loop.

Last year Manager Wilson, who is again pilotting the Zanesville outfit, stepped the Southpaw pitching.

Last year Marion finished fifth in a tight league, 28 games out of first place. The year before the Cards ended up last.

Here is the way the voting went:

Team	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	Pts.
Zanesville	8	4	2	3	1	2	2	2	128
Dayton	7	2	2	4	4	2	1	2	123
Marion	8	3	5	2	2	1	0	4	124
Springfield	8	2	2	3	5	2	2	2	111
Richmond	8	2	2	4	5	4	2	2	104
Middletown	8	2	4	4	1	2	1	2	102
Newark	8	1	1	2	2	4	3	2	22
Lima	8	0	2	0	2	2	4	4	66

Dodgers Eke Out Win

Zanesville's Dodgers eked out a 6 to 4 victory over the Moose Blue Jays in an exhibition game Monday with Kenny Cook and Johnny Stalen, ace right-handed hurlers doing the pitching honors. Hummel and Hewery pushed for the Zanesville.

The Dodgers got 11 hits and gave up 7 B. I. Aumond, returned from the injured to the outfield, batted out three hits, one a two base knock, to lead Zanesville batters.

The Dodgers are slated over a road test Maynard DeWitt, fast right hander, and George Mavis, the third hurler, will be playing ball in a Zanesville uniform again this year.

* * *

Newark Books Tilts

The Newark Moundsmen will tangle with the same Zanesville Moose Blue Jays today and Sunday in two exhibition games.

Newark apparently is not shaping up very well, according to the Newark Advocate. Joe Kuhel, St. Louis Browns scout, took a look at the team in a practice session Monday and promises to send more talent within the week.

* * *

Dayton Licks Wounds

Dayton's Manager Frank Parenti has now squad back to fundamentals after Sunday's rout at the hands of the Middletown Reds. His sessions in a week are devoted to all-out practice and not much else.

He has been promised more talent from the parent Cleveland Indians.

Straight Talk...
TO TOWN - AND - COUNTRY MEN

What of the plight of the suburbanite — the fellow with one foot on the sod, the other on pavement? He lives in the country, toils in the city, and the wardrobe problem has him stumped. Far too often he wears sport clothes to the office, or (worse) wears business clothes on country weekends. Neither adds to a sense of well-dressed well-being . . . Our solution is a double-barreled wardrobe, especially planned city-successful and country-comfortable. Yes, it costs somewhat more than an adequate one-purpose outfit; it's a good investment in easy and enjoyable wearing.

Wally Schang Recalls Highlights of Career, Gives Lowdown to Rookies

By JIM DARBY

Wally Schang, Marion Cardinals' manager, says he's been playing baseball for longer than he can remember. Before starting in baseball in 1910 at the age of 18 he played sandlot ball from the time he started to walk. He's 54 now and still playing.

He was born in Wales, N. Y., and was christened Walter but he would hardly know he was being paged if someone addressed him by that name.

Didn't Enjoy Catching

Strangely enough, he didn't begin catch when he was first baseman. That was his brother Roy's department and he never considered the position until Roy's split finger put him behind the plate.

His wife will stay in Missouri this summer while Wally is at the baseball wars. They have no children.

The Schang farm near Dixon Mo., acquired the name "Buzzard's Roost Ranch." That name, although somewhat unconventional, is even recognized by the U. S. postal guide which will deliver mail when addressed.

Wally, one of the best catchers in the history of the game, says the fastest pitchers he ever caught were Lefty Grove and Walter Johnson in non-league games. Joe Bush was the speediest hurler he caught in regular league competition.

More Refined Today

Pitching today is more refined, he believes. When he first came up pitchers could do about what they liked with a ball before delivery. Now they are somewhat more restrained.

The game itself has changed greatly too, he believes. "Back in those days," he said, "we always played for that one run. Of course, if we got two or three, so much the better. But when we got that man on first, we tried to advance him around, by stealing, by sacrifice hits and such plays. We never waited until we could slug him around with base hits."

Schang thinks that brand made for good running, fancy fielding and tighter play. Today every batter takes a grip of the bat as far down the handle as he can and slugs. "I guess Babe Ruth had something to do with changing baseball from a fielder's game to a hitter's contest," he said.

Not So Tough

He believes the pitching staff of the Yankees of the 1920's was greatly superior to present day Yankee hurlers. "Murderer's Row" he says shows more power at the plate than the earlier crop of Yankee hitters.

After his retirement as a full time player, Schang managed minor league clubs for a while. Then in 1936 he was back in the majors, this time as a coach for the Cleveland Indians. He was with the Indians through 1938.

In 1939 he manager Ottawa of the Canadian - American league and in 1940 managed Three Rivers of the Provincial league. The club finished fourth but won the playoff.

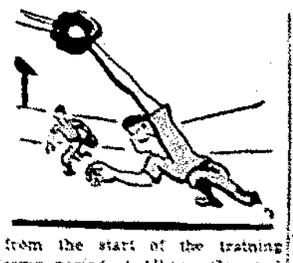
He managed at Augusta and Owensboro in 1942 and in 1943 went to Utica.

He retired to his farm at Dixon, Mo., the next year and was out of the game for a full season. But the lure of baseball was too strong. When Joe Mathes of the St. Louis Cardinals farm system asked him to manage Marion he accepted. He joined the club Decoration Day last year.

Fans Were Unhappy

Schang was handicapped by his late joining after the players had been picked by another manager. Then too, he had to take over at a time when Marion could count its wins on the fingers of one hand and the fans were yelling for a better brand of ball.

This year it will be Schang's team. He has been with his boys from the start of the training camp period at Albany, Ga., and he will have the molding of the team entirely in his own hands. The results should please the fans.



The attitude of fans has softened greatly since his early playing days, Schang says. When he played in his first World Series at New York, he said his Philadelphia teammates had to run a barrage of over-ripe lemons and cabbages as they left the park.

His greatest thrill in baseball came in that same series. The Giants had a man on first and third and coaches were calling for a double steal. Schang bluffed the man back to third, then pegged to Jack Berry in time to catch the man stealing second.

To youngsters trying to make the grade in organized baseball he has the following bits of advice:

1. Love the game.
2. Eat it, sleep it and dream it.
3. Keep a ball in your hand as much as possible. Grasp it and practice throwing it.
4. Have determination.
5. Go to bed early, get plenty of rest and get up early every morning.
6. Try to be the first man to get his uniform on—the last to get it off.

Rufus Jones To Meet Indian on Armory Mat

A two-hour main event bout is listed as the top attraction on tonight's wrestling card. Rufus Jones, colored wrestler from New York, and Indio Yaqui, non-English speaking Mexican Indian, will battle for the best two out of three falls. Both were winners last week.

The semi-finals, a one hour affair matches Buck Weaver and Jack Abbott. Abbott, a Texan, is a double on guitar strumming when he falls. A 15 minute preliminary between two Marion boys starts the show at 8:30 p. m.

MILLERS GRAB LEAD; BIRDS LEAVE CELLAR

Columbus Spills Louisville To Break Even.

By The Associated Press

Minneapolis held sole possession of first place in the American Association today as Milwaukee, league champions for the last three seasons, appeared out of place in the cellar.

The Millers broke their tie for the top spot with Louisville by defeating Kansas City 4 to 3 in 10 innings yesterday while Columbus beat the Colonels 2 to 1 for an even break in their two-game series to climb out of last place.

At St. Paul, the Saints pushed the defending champion Milwaukee Brewers into last place with a 7 to 3 win, while Toledo defeated Indianapolis 7 to 4 to go into a tie for fourth place with the Indians.

Lollar Helps in 5-1 Victory After Iron Man Breaks Mark

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Unless all signs fail, young John Sherman Lollar, Cleveland's rookie backstop who was the big reason for Manager Lou Boudreau's decision to rest Frankie Hayes after the veteran catcher had extended his record-breaking consecutive game streak to 312, appears headed for major league stardom.

The soft-spoken 21-year-old native of Fayetteville, Ark., followed his own recipe yesterday when in his first starting role with the Indians, he doubled with the bases loaded to clear the sacks, highlighting a five-run eighth inning rally which gave the Tribe a 5-1 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

SHERMAN LOLLAR

Steps into Iron Man's Shoes

Lollar began his professional career in just about the same manner. It was in the 1944 International league opener that Lollar, then a 19-year-old youth making his debut with the Baltimore Orioles, smashed a homer with the bases loaded in his first pro game.

The six-foot, 180-pound receiver went on to become the league's batting champion and most valuable player the following year and was sold at the close of last season to the Indians for a working agreement price of $10,000.

All-Around Job

In addition to his double yesterday, Lollar smacked a single in three official trips to the plate and handled the slants of Charles (Red) Embree, his old Baltimore battery mate, perfectly. He accepted nine chances cleanly including two assists.

Manager Lou Boudreau plans to use both Hayes and Lollar, declaring "there will be plenty of work for both."

Boudreau admitted it was a tough decision to end Hayes' streak, but said "I had to start the kid sometime, and I preferred to start him on the road." The manager also said he believed Hayes would be better off now that the pressure was off, and lauded Frank's prowess.

Hayes said:

"I told Lou last year and I told him again today that I would do anything possible to help the club. Certainly I was proud of the streak, but I realized it had to end some day."

Back in Cleveland today for a two-day stand against the White Sox, the Tribe will send Allie Reynolds to the mound for an attempt at a second win over the Chicagoans. Ed Lopat or Joe Haynes will start for the visitors.

The victory boosted the Indians' percentage to .600 but failed to advance them from their fourth place position behind the New York Yankees, Detroit and the Boston Red Sox.

The Yankees moved into undisputed possession of first place in the American league by whipping the Red Sox 12-3 on the wings of a 15-hit attack against five Boston hurlers. Tex Hughson and Ted Williams, a pair of Hub favorites, disappointed a near record crowd of 30,028 who saw the Sox drop from first to third place.

Hughson, seeking his third straight triumph, failed to last five innings and was charged with the defeat. Williams was roundly booed when he grounded into three successive double plays after poling a 400-foot triple in the fourth inning.

Cards, Brooks Win

Brooklyn and the St. Louis Cardinals continued their merry battle for first place in the National league as each team won its seventh straight after bowing in the season's opener. The Dodgers routed the Philadelphia Phils, 11-3, for their 12th consecutive win in Shibe park. The Phils dropped all 11 games to the Dodgers on their home field last year. Rookie Carl Furillo, with four hits including a home run and three runs batted in, paced the Dodger attack.

The Red Birds won their second straight 3-2 game from the Cincinnati Reds, with Stan Musial again driving in the winning run. Southpaw Howie Pollet, although tagged for nine safe blows, was credited with his second victory of the season.

Truett (Rip) Sewell, an old nemesis of the Chicago Cubs, tamed the Bruins again with a nine-hitter in pitching the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-3 decision over the National league champions. It was Sewell himself who batted in the winning run when his eighth inning single broke a 3-3 deadlock.

Boston Braves rebounded from their hitless efforts against Brooklyn's Ed Head on Tuesday by raking five New York Giant hurlers for 14 hits including successive home runs by Tommy Holmes and Ray Sanders, to outslug the Polo Grounders 10-7.

Held scoreless for seven rounds, Washington's Senators rallied for four runs in their half of the eighth to overcome a 1-0 deficit and defeat the Philadelphia Athletics 4-2. A single by pinch hitter George Binks accounted for two runs with Stan Spence's double sending in two more. Detroit and Chicago's White Sox were idle.

Giants Hand Van Mungo Unconditional Release

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 25—Van Lingle Mungo, often called "Peck's bad boy of baseball," appeared to be at the end of the big league trail today when the New York Giants handed him an unconditional release.

The tempestuous chucker was the top winner for Mel Ott's Giants last year when he returned from the Army to stage a fine comeback with a 14-7 win record.

Ott said he suspended Mungo for breaking training enroute north this spring, and has heard nothing from him since.

The 34-year-old Mungo has been around the major leagues since 1931, most of the time in Brooklyn.

STOCKS GIVE WAY AGAIN IN TRADING

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 25—Stocks generally continued to give ground in today's market although selling never was particularly urgent.

Losses of fractions to 2 points were widespread near the fourth hour.

Persistent bearishness was blamed by brokers partly on possible repercussions from the coal strike, sharp recessions in a number of first quarter earnings, renewal of inflation psychology and the thought that the list might have considerable difficulty in penetrating the recent 15-year peak. Failure of the rails to confirm the recent substantial upswing of industrials from the February low also was viewed a bit apprehensively.

Declines of around 2 points or so at the worst were suffered by Eastman Kodak, Du Pont and Union Pacific.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

OLINA hesitated for the fraction of a second in the doorway, and I guessed that everyone in the room was echoing my thought that surely never had a real picture frame held a more beautiful portrait than the one enclosed by the lintels of the door.

Her soft dark hair was piled high on her head—I guessed that the hairdresser had finished the coiffure but a few minutes before—and into it were thrust two exquisitely-fashioned combs of antique silver with small rubies glowing in intricate design.

Red Velvet Gown

Her gown,a tight-fitting sleeveless dinner dress of deep red velvet, devoid of trimming except for touches of exquisite filmy old lace, encased her svelte, supple figure, as if, Dicky commented later, "she had been poured into it."

A long necklace of rubies and small diamonds was her only ornament save for the ring on the third finger of her left hand, a ring, which, when she lifted the hand as if negligently to adjust her necklace, "struck me between the eyes," and I guessed had the same effect on everyone of us who had not seen the royal bauble before.

For it was a huge "pigeon-blood" ruby which gleamed upon her finger, a gem cunningly set into a design of small but evidently costly diamonds.

Like No Other

It was a ring like no other I ever had seen in America. But it was like the crown jewels of England I had seen in the Tower years before, and I knew that I was looking at the heirloom betrothal ring which every king of Trees for generations had put upon the finger of his bride.

I had not known how much the flaunting of that ring upon Olina's finger would affect me until I saw it. I felt a fierce jealous partisanship for Mary, as I realized what Olina was silently trying to "put over" on Dicky's lovely winsome niece, so dear to both of us.

In effect she was saying: "Yes, I know you once were engaged to Georges, and I know that he has shown you all sorts of flamboyant attentions since he came back. But you never rated the heirloom betrothal ring of the kings of Trees. He gave you a circlet of diamonds. But his ring he never would give to a commoner. It is for me, a princess of royal blood, equal to his own."

Enjoyed Her Triumph

But she enjoyed her triumph, if anything could be called that which had not been put into words, for only the second that it took Mary to spring from her chair, rush over to her, and sweep her into an apparently ecstatic embrace.

"Lina, Lina darling!" she exclaimed. "Does that ring mean what I think it does? It's the heirloom betrothal ring of the kings of Trees, and on your finger it must mean that you and Georges have finally come to your senses, and are betrothed again. Ain't so? Oh, I'm so glad for both of you! Here's a great big smack for congratulation!"

She printed a resounding kiss upon Olina's cheek, and then stepped back, releasing the other girl, who, for the instant, was so astounded that her royal poise deserted her, and she put a quick bewildered query, as a school girl might have done.

"How—how did you know what this ring was? You never saw it, did you?"

Gave Mary Her Opportunity

I guessed that, an instant later, she could have bitten her tongue through in fury at having been lured into asking the question. But it gave Mary exactly the opportunity she wished, the chance to make the revelation she already had given me, and which now, thanks to her clever maneuvering, she could voice.

"No, I never saw it," Mary replied easily, "but I've heard Georges describe it so often I think I could recognize the thing in the dark, if I could only trace the outline of it with my fingers. But of course I haven't heard anything about it for years and years. That was in that old mad time when you and Noel and Georges and yours very truly formed what Uncle Dicky called the romantic international quartet. 'Member, Noel darling?"

Boyle Rates Italy Among Most Hapless Nations of Europe

By HAL BOYLE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

April 25—Italy is one of the most hopeless countries in the western world today because I feel it is impossible for the people to make both ends meet, the morale of the masses in all countries and all ages.

The morale has been beaten to a pulp on the anvil of shortages by the hammer of high prices. This feeling that there is little use in working because their labor brings them no adequate return has spread like a contagious disease through the nation, paralyzing efforts at personal and national recovery from the ruin of war.

The reflex defensive result of this feeling of hopelessness in the individual is a "don't care" attitude about his job, a lowering of moral standards and a cynical indifference to everything except his own belly and his own amusement.

Need 20,000 Lire

Authorities estimate that it takes a salary of 20,000 lire a month—about $89—for a family of five to buy the food needed to keep them in good health.

Yet the average Italian office worker, including the college graduate, does not average better than half that amount. The father must spend virtually his entire wages on food for his wife and children.

That doesn't give them the food they need. It merely keeps them alive.

Shelter is one of the most reasonable items in the budget because the Fascists froze rent levels and they have been kept low since.

Clothing is so high that most families simply have to do with what they have, and patching has become so commonplace it constitutes a new style of Italian mosaics al fresco, done in fabric instead of stones.

Clothing Costs Soar

A poor suit costs $70, and after the first rain the wearer looks like a laundry bag wrapped in a gunny sack. A good suit costs $150 to $200.

In Rome there are scores of coffee stocked with high-priced luxury goods. There are windows loaded with fine and fancy foods. But these displays are for the rich of all Italy who have thronged to Rome, where they live off their financial fat. Many are absentee landlords.

They live here partly through fear. They don't like to live too close to the people from whom they draw the income that permits them to live better than their neighbors. Things might happen to them if they stayed at home in the provinces.

In the old days of Roman glory the Caesars solved temporarily the periodical problem of hard times and mass content with the formula of providing "bread and circuses."

Christians' Turn Now

The poor who thronged to Rome were kept from revolting by grain handouts—the breadlines of those times—and edifying spectacles in the coliseum, such as the feeding of Christians to the lions.

Now it is the turn of the hungry Christians. Grain is short, and they are ready to eat the lions.

The Italian soul for 2,500 years has fed on pomp and pageantry, the splendor of painting and statuary and music. The Italian still has his mandolin for his spirit, but there's not enough spaghetti for his stomach.

Italy needs less history, more hope.

Peter Stuyvesant determined the size of Albany, N. Y., in 1652 by firing one cannon ball north, another south, and declaring all land between the shots within city limits.

Jap Women Hit Party Leaders

Complain They Are Ignored in Four Way Coalition Bargaining.

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, April 25—Two women recently elected to the diet complained tonight women were being ignored by party leaders in conferences designed to effect a coalition government.

The protest followed a proposal by the Social Democrats, who have taken a "premiership or nothing" attitude, for a four-party coalition.

Shigeye, Takeuchi, a liberal party member, strongly criticised the menfolk for secret maneuvering. She further asserted that women members of the new diet—there are about 40—seemed to be regarded simply as "nuisances."

Shizue Kato, woman member of the Social Democratic party, described the coalition bargaining as "black market deals." She urged formation of a Democratic Front cabinet, with Social Democrats taking the lead.

The Communists announced "we are prepared to temporarily sidestep our original advocacy of abolition of the Tenno (Emperor) system and establishment of a Republican government." Jiji news agency said Communist secretary general Kyuichi Tokuda made the announcement at a press conference and explained "It is more important presently to solve the food and other pressing problems."

The home ministry accepted the resignations of seven officials who came within the scope of General MacArthur's political purge directive. They included the governor of Hokkaido and a former thought police official.

The Social Democrats' proposal for a four-party coalition came as the Emperor remained silent on the selection of a new cabinet. Leaders of the four parties, the Social Democrats and Liberals, who together won 231 diet seats, and the Communists and Cooperatives, with about ten between them, conferred but without reaching a decision. There are 466 diet seats, so the four would hold a bare majority.

There were reports that the people, especially farmers, were showing more interest in the controversy and an increasing desire for a socialist government to succeed resigned Premier Kijuro Shidehara's nonpartisan cabinet.

ANNUAL INSPECTION HELD BY SOJOURNERS

Jas. C. Musser, District Deputy, Here for Ceremony.

Annual inspection was conducted at a special meeting Wednesday night in the Masonic Temple of Sojourners lodge No. 653, F. and A. M., with James C. Musser of DeGraff, O., district deputy grand master, as inspecting officer. Approximately 150 persons were present.

The lodge meeting opened at 4:30 in the afternoon at which time the master Mason degree was conferred on a class of candidates. Dinner was served at 6:30 p. m. by ladies of the Eastern Star, and a meeting was held again in the evening.

Ernest F. Schaefer of Akron, most worshipful grand master of the state, was honored guest at the meeting. He was presented an honorary membership in Sojourners Lodge. Also present at the meeting to give a short talk was Thomas E. Reber of Upper Sandusky, grand junior deacon of the grand lodge.

The master Mason degree was also conferred on a class of candidates in the evening. Two vocal selections, "The Holy City," and "Open the Gates of the Temple," were presented by Donald Preuninger during the initiatory service, accompanied at the piano by Edward A. Beech.

The wives of the officers of the lodge entertained Mrs. Schaefer and Mrs. Reber with a dinner at 6:30 p. m. at Hotel Harding.

Pittsburgher Held in Girl's Abduction

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 25—Truman Rogers, 31-year-old operator of a restaurant in Pittsburgh, is being held for the Mahoning county grand jury on two charges—armed robbery and abducting the druggist's daughter.

A robber held up Ivan Smith's drug store on April 5, taking $130 and carrying away in his car the druggist's pretty daughter, Patricia. After a "wild ride," she was released near East Liverpool, unharmed, and police quoted her as saying her abductor had "nice manners" and was "gentlemanly."

Rogers pleaded innocent to the two charges yesterday before Municipal Judge Peter B. Mulholland and waived preliminary hearing. The judge set his bond at $10,000 on the robbery charge and $25,000 on the kidnaping charge.

Rogers was arrested in Pittsburgh Monday night. Chief of Detectives William A. Reed said the man signed statements admitting the holdup and abduction.

Wac Falls Into Sea from Homebound Ship

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 25—An enlisted Wac fell from the New York- bound troop transport Sedalia Victory last night 36 miles off Montauk Point and is presumed to be lost, the Army said today.

Name of the Wac was withheld by the Army pending notification of next of kin.

The Army said it did not know circumstances of the Wac's fall into the Atlantic.

Crewmen from the Sedalia Victory searched in two boats for two hours. At one time the rescuers heard the Wac calling for help but were unable to reach her. She wore no life belt.

Two Wac officers and six enlisted women were aboard the troopship, enroute from Le Havre, with 649 other troops.

Nazi Bomb in London Alive After 5 Years

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 25—Bomb disposal experts awaited tensely today the expected explosion of a 1,000-pound German bomb, the mechanism of which suddenly came to life after the half-ton of explosives had lain buried for five years near Buckingham palace.

The mechanism of the bomb—familiarly known as "Annie"—started ticking last evening after it was uncovered at the bottom of a 30-foot shaft by a disposal squad making preparations for its removal.

Major A. E. Smith, commanding the disposal squad, said the mechanism might continue ticking for four days, but declared that if the bomb failed to explode by 7 p. m. Friday "We'll blow it up."

OHIO C. OF C. BACKS NEW PENSION PLAN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 25—The Ohio Chamber of Commerce today proposed to the Ohio pension program commission to plan which it said would place police and firemen's pension systems on an actuarially sound basis. Most such systems now are in financial difficulties.

The Chamber plan would require no state subsidies but would require the municipalities to contribute one and a half times the amount to be contributed by the members of the police and fire departments.

It proposed that the member contribution, now two per cent of annual salary, be increased to five per cent; that the present mandated tax levy of up to three mills be repealed and that the municipalities be required to set aside in their annual budgets funds sufficient to meet the municipal contributions.

Dr. Arch Schultz, Chamber research director, said he anticipated the annual municipal contribution would be less than the proceeds derived from a full three mill levy.

The police and firemen benefits under the Chamber of Commerce plan would be about 20 per cent higher than those of other municipal and state employes in section of the hazards of the fession.

The proposed system also vides for merging the present systems with the state emp system on a voluntary bas new employes however wo merged immediately with th system.

Uniformity for a minimum missive retirement age and a pulsory retirement age wou required. Disability retire would be taken care of by w men's compensation.

Members withdrawing fro system would receive only amount they had contributed interests.

Deficiencies in the present sion funds would be met th loans by the state, but the mu palities would be required t pay the loan over a perio years. The state would not ass the indebtedness of any su vision.

Still the First Hundred

THE death of Harlan E. Stone, chief justice of the United States, gives President Truman the privilege of another supreme court appointment—only the 96th since the first court was formed in 1789. Chief Justice Stone was only the 12th American to serve as the court's chief officer.

His contemporaries inevitably are aware of the fact he is the last of the pre-New Deal justices to leave the bench, though in that respect his passing is an anticlimax. The last of the pre-New Deal conceptions of the court's function disappeared a good many years ago.

Chief Justice Stone was one of a succession of Americans who bore extraordinary responsibility for custodianship of the law. It is perhaps the most demanding job, short of the presidency, that has been created in American government. To whatever extent the nation's prospects of survival are still improving after more than 150 years of trial and error, success and failure, integrity and betrayal, credit is due in great part to the thinking of members of the supreme court who were able to rise above the shortcomings of prejudice. Harlan E. Stone, in the opinion of those who knew him best, acquitted himself with honor in a position which represents the ultimate test of faith in American principles.

The Soundies

IT doesn't seem like 20 years since the commercial introduction of talking pictures. For most of us it has been closer to 15 years. The first sound pictures were not widely distributed. It was to be several years after the "bugs" were exterminated from the first crude equipment, moreover, until most of the country's movie houses were converted to the new medium.

It was a new medium, no doubt of that. Almost overnight, movies were transformed from well-developed peep-shows to true dramatic stature. They leaped ahead of the living stage in their possibilities. Or they gained the ability to do so whenever they chose. Many of the first talkies, unfortunately, were either what their name implied—talky—or plain noisy. Though called talkies, they would have been better called soundies.

Hollywood had a new gadget to sell. It also had a new art. The soundies sold like hot cakes, but they also developed as an art. Given another half century and fair luck, they may become a great art. There are signs of progress. A recent foreign-made soundie, because of an accident, had to be released with no sound accompanying some of its footage. Hollywood will be quick to notice that critics commented favorably. After all, life is neither continuous talk nor incessant sound. It has its moments of silence, and when the movie-makers learn to mix the two in the right proportion they will have a greater art than they have now, with only 20 years to practice its vital details.

Independence Must Be Earned

AN election in the Philippines seems remote, despite the fact that less than a year ago American soldiers were dying to make it possible. Moreover, it is an election to prepare the islands for their independence on the coming July 4, which seems almost absurd, under the circumstances.

But there is nothing absurd about it, nor is the Philippines election remote. It is the fulfillment of a promise—a promise made under politically dubious circumstances but made, nevertheless. Throughout Asia, where politics is geared directly to the cynicism of old and weary civilizations, that promise was noted and is being watched carefully. No Asiatic really believes the Philippines will gain independence from the nation on whose good will and military power they depend. Filipinos themselves doubt as a consequence of the war that they are ready to take responsibility for independence. Yet, they are going to get it, and they know they are going to get it. There will be no breaking of faith.

In whatever form it may take, in recognition of war's impact on the Philippines, independence has been earned. It has been earned by loyalty, courage and suffering. It has been earned by Filipinos who bore the brunt of Japan's first assaults on American outposts in the Pacific. Beyond and above the mundane details of sugar, oil, tariff restrictions, naval strategy, oriental politics are some of the most glorious chapters in the record of courage during World War II, chapters written in the blood of Filipinos who fought for the United States because they had confidence in its promises.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

CIO Moves To Rid Itself of Communism.

WASHINGTON, April 25 — An AFL authority who knows thoroughly what is going on in the labor movement, has circulated privately a report that certain CIO unions are moving to cleanse themselves of Communism. He tells of a secret meeting of the organization of Utility Workers of America recently, where the constitution is supposed to have been changed to provide expulsion of any member who joins the Communist, Nazi or Fascist parties, and permanently prohibits them from holding office.

There are other inner symptoms not yet ready to relate, that the left-wingers are awakening to the methods and effects of Communism. If they are, it would be a tremendously significant event because they are the ones who can best do the job of cleansing the influences which have absorbed much of their activity. It is in the left-wing Labor movement where Communism has had the greatest success, not in politics or at the polls, and a thorough cleansing might result in the change of many labor doctrines which have been unrealistic, if not self-destructive of labor's best interests.

It may be a long job and require action, but at least the will to do the job seems to be developing where it will do the most good.

Learn About Tricks

There are other indications that the country is catching on to the insidious methods of Communism, a private letter sent out by one of the most reputable business advisory services in the country recently carried a thorough analysis of the peculiar Communist technique which has never been fully understood by the business people of the country. It outlines, for instance, the fact that Communism is a kind of fanaticism, difficult for the average American mind to understand. It works without principle or honor, using every method to attain its purposes—I was going to say ideals, but it has no ideals. The ideal changes with whatever immediate objective is ahead and the objective is destruction, primarily, of all other ideals.

Examples were given in this letter to enable the employers better to combat the effects of insidious organization. This letter also tells how the Communists work in the unions from a single person to influence another by every means at their command, even metaphysically or phychically to absorb the peoples' minds. One man on a union board of twelve, this memo relates, sometimes is able to control the judgment of as many as twelve ultimately after years of preying upon their likes and dislikes, at least on some issues.

Many Methods New

Many of the methods were new to me, but the most striking was that Communists actually start red baiting schemes against themselves by one of their members, of whom they wish to rid themselves without letting any one know except themselves. It seemed to me the ultimate abnigation of all existence, to get your own people to advocate destruction of yourself in order to win an immediate point which might become another point tomorrow, or an opposite point.

The fact that these things now are getting around in the highest business and labor quarters, and also in even higher political quarters than I have suggested, indicates progress is being made of a great nature toward establishing realism necessary to good government here and peace here and abroad. When the methods and tactics become generally known, they can be easily destroyed, and I think lack of understanding has been one of the prime deterrents to our progress in recent years.

From Washing To Washington?

In Nebraska, a 64-year-old professional dishwasher is running for the U. S. senate.

And getting, one might add, no little encouragement from people who think what we need in Washington is more dishwashers—and fewer apple-polishers.

But his candidacy is being opposed, naturally enough, by all the restaurant operators. Good dishwashers are scarce.

Many believe, incidentally, that the reason lawyers predominate in congress is that, there being a surplus of them, they can much better be spared.

This dishwasher would be right at home in congress, at that, having spent so much time in hot water.

And he'd make a welcome addition to the senate's food conservation ranks. With his background, he'd certainly have no tolerance for folks leaving stuff on their plates.

Another thing! If elected, he'll at least come to Washington with clean hands.

Skeleton Army Needs Skeleton

By JACK STINNETT

BRASS HATS at the War Department are wearing Grand Canyon furrows in their brows.

The uncertainties and vagaries on extension of the draft are just starters. The delays and dubious future of universal military training are only the beginning.

What's going to happen to the War Department appropriations in a congress that is toying around with the idea of knocking $2,000,000,000 or about one-third out of the Navy budget?

Skeletonizing our armed forces to unburden the taxpayers in peacetime is one thing. Throwing the bones away so there's no skeleton left to haunt the Nazis and Fascists still in the world is another matter.

That's the way the brass hats feel about it, including such toppers as Commander-in-Chief Truman (as made clear in his Chicago speech) and Gen. Eisenhower (as enlarged upon in his testimony on draft extension).

There would be no point in listing the Army's aches and pains, but I would like to mention one that is illustrative of a few of the problems.

There is in the country an organized reserve corps of more than 500,000 men. These are veterans of World War II willing to maintain their rank or rating or improve them by study, occasional training periods and making themselves subject to immediate call if trouble breaks out again.

About 225,000 of them are officers, about 300,000 enlisted men. This suits the Army fine. Training an army really becomes a problem when you have to stop to train officers and non-coms.

The Army would like to keep these reserves on their toes physically and mentally. The best way to do that is "refresher" summer courses.

On paper, the Army has some vague plans of how this should be done. Most of the reserves are valuable technicians and experts in one field or another. Some of the "training camps" would be for officers only. Others for officers and a handful of enlisted men. The third group would include full units that would be called up en masse.

Where, when, and how the men are to be induced to turn out are questions that nobody can answer now. The first two question marks might be resolved if congress would provide for this program. The third is a tougher one. Few of the reserves have been out of the Army as long as a year. Many of them saw combat action.

They want no part of more military training this summer or any time in the near future. The Army realizes that many would drop out if any effort were made to force them back now.

Woman Guards Gold

By VIRGINIA VAN DER VEER

WASHINGTON — The small, white-haired woman walking toward the White House looked like someone's favorite grandmother out for a stroll.

She wore a lavender-flowered blouse and a spring hat. She was bringing a small, square package to President Truman.

You might not guess it but Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross is the official guardian of 20 billion dollars in near gold and silver bricks.

"Of course it's out in Ft. Knox and Denver," says Mrs. Ross stoutly, "but it's my job to see that it stays there."

The sprightly little director of the U. S. Mint had a present for the President—his likeness on the traditional bronze medal made, since George Washington, in honor of each chief executive.

In her big office, a baseball pitch from the Treasury Department, Mrs. Ross handles her man-sized swivel chair with dignity and ease.

Experienced Executive

She's used to this throne of an executive. Her first was the governor's chair of Wyoming, where in 1925 she made news as the country's first woman governor.

Mrs. Ross became the first woman to hold the nation's purse-strings when President Roosevelt moved her to the Mint in 1933 from vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Wartime found Mrs. Ross up to her earrings in business.

"Everybody wanted coins," she reminisces, "for pay envelopes, stamp machines, telephones, chewing gum, the latest song—all those nickel-in-the-slot affairs.

"The Army and Navy wanted medals. Foreign countries asked us to make them coins. It kept our mints going 24 hours, seven days a week. Why last year we turned out 45 tons of coins every day."

Mrs. Ross said this meant many more tons of metal were being tossed around daily. "Like making biscuits," she explained. "You have to put the scraps together and roll it all out again."

Lots of Money

In four years, says Mrs. Ross, her china-blue eyes wide at the thought, she's directed the making of one-third as many coins as have been turned out in the country's history.

Though she doesn't think international robbers are likely to make a stab at it, alert Mrs. Ross isn't taking any chances with the gold and silver of which she is legal guardian. Patrolmen at the depositories are in daily contact with her Washington office, ready to call out the Army, Navy and Marines in case of bigtime burglars.

An early Roosevelt appointee, Mrs. Ross is one of the few to weather 13 years at her post. Though she confesses she first thought the Mint would be a "cold, impersonal place," she's since decided it's her favorite working spot.

On the little finger of her left hand, Mrs. Ross wears a U. S. dime mounted on a silver band.

"In case," twinkles the lady who keeps a nation's change, "I forget my bus fare."

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, April 25, 1936.

Finley Peter Dunne, creator of the mythical "Mr. Dooley," a byword of American households, died in a New York hotel where he had made his home for several years. He was 68.

Expressions disapproving liquor, war and crime were made by more than 150 young people from Evangelical churches in the vicinity of Marion, at a rally held at Oakland Evangelical church.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Porter, T. A. O'Leary, W. F. Bull, H. R. Stauffer, Bert Brashares, R. M. Miller, C. W. Fairbanks, V. M. Dutton and W. T. Buchanan attended the opening of the annual spring meeting of the State Elks' association at Newark.

Proceeds of a tag day sponsored by Girl Reserve members in the interest of their activities, amounted to $151.

Information regarding wage rates in the community was taken by a representative of the U. S. department of labor to be used by postal officials in computing estimated cost of the addition to be built to the Marion postoffice.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, April 25, 1926.

Col. James H. Ramsey of Marion, regimental head of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, was elected brigadier general of the Ohio Brigade at the state election held in Mansfield.

Burglars broke into the H. B. Ward department store at Bucyrus and carried away over $800 worth of silk goods and $60 in cash.

Mr. and Mrs. William Zahn entertained at dinner at their home on Canby court in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zahn, recently married.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Cull were surprised by a company of friends who called at their home on East Center street in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The upper story of the home of Mrs. W. S. Groscost in Cardington was destroyed by fire.

So They Say—

Walter Burden, of New York's Home Service Department of the Red Cross—"In helping the serviceman readjust himself again to civilian life we urge that he consider his Government insurance, the keystone of his economic plan for the future."

Minister Georges Bidault of France—"No nation, however great can get along without United States aid."

5,511 Vets Reenlist

By The Associated Press

CASERTA, Italy—A theater-wide recruiting campaign produced 5,511 enlistments in the U. S. regular Army up to April 1, MTOUSA headquarters announced. Of them, 1,641 were Negro soldiers, 161 Japanese-Americans, 18 Mexicans, three American Indians, two Philippines, one Puerto Rican and one Hawaiian.

The Spanish Dilemma

By RAYMOND MOLEY

ONE of the European correspondents said sadly, as he was leaving the UN meeting on Spain: "It's 1936 all over again. Nothing was settled by the Spanish Civil War." This man's pessimism may have been deepened by the fatigue induced by a long, dry session. But all those present realized that the debates did not reveal what was really in the minds of everyone there. Everybody was talking about the danger of another civil war in Spain. But everybody was thinking about Communism—the Russian group in pleasant anticipation of another friendly government; the British in dread of a communistic Iberian Peninsula. But all sides agree in their distaste for Franco and his regime.

Mr. Stettinius spoke quite frankly of the American Government's dislike of Franco. And he said that some new regime must be created which will take its place. But he shed little light on how a bloodless change is to be brought about.

Not Easy To Do

It will not be easy to accomplish this change. Franco can no longer depend on German or Italian troops. But he has the Moors, and they are strategically well placed along the French frontier. He has a firm grip on all Spanish military power. Political opposition to him is widely divided. There are many species of Socialism, some Communists, a few Anarchists and what not. The church has no great liking for Franco, but is mildly supporting him because of its fear of Communism.

The council of the UN faces another difficulty in meeting the Spanish question. It realizes that it must ultimately reach into the internal affairs of some states. But in doing so, it will enter an entirely new sphere of world politics. In former times, two methods were used in such cases—military power and boycotts. Neither of these is practical now. An economic boycott would merely intensify the hunger and suffering of innocent people and possibly precipitate bloody revolution. The UN is obviously not ready with any form of international military power.

Demand Recognition

Left-wing groups in the United States are demanding that the "Spanish Republic" be acknowledged as the legitimate government of Spain. There is no such government in Spain, but there is one in exile. This government-in-exile would, according to these American groups, enlist the support of all "democratic" parties in Spain and somehow get into power and hold an election. It is hard to see how this could be brought about, laudible though the objective may be.

It may be that Franco will yield to a demand of the council to have access to Spain for purposes of inspection and investigation. If this is granted, the question whether there are Nazi centers of infection there could be determined. If this is shown, the position of Franco would probably be intolerable, and some form of republican government might come to power. It is not at all certain that Communism would result, especially if the Western powers established helpful economic relations with the new government. Yet the dread fear of Communism is still keeping Franco in power, despite his general unpopularity abroad.

Spain is the sick man of Europe. But the doctors are still in the dark about the nature of the cure.

China Charges More for Mule Than Man

TIENTSIN, China—Marines in North China are finding that human life is pretty cheap in this teeming country.

In accidents involving Marine equipment the U. S. government is called on to pay about $55 in American money at the current North China rate of exchange for each Chinese life lost.

Where a mule is killed in a similar accident the government has to pay about $75 to the mule owner.

GI FOR MILLIGAN GROUP FORMED HERE

Ex-Service Men To Back Candidate for Lieut. Gov.

A group of local "G.I.s" here organized a Milligan for Lieutenant Governor committee today and pledged themselves to vote and work for the nomination of Fred J. Milligan, World War II veteran, for lieutenant governor at the May Republican primary.

Heading the committee are: chairman, Ralph Carhart, who served as a lieutenant in the Navy, and vice chairman, Calvin Oborn who served as a non-commissioned officer in the Army Air Forces.

This committee was organized in support of Milligan's candidacy because they felt that with more than 500,000 Ohioans in military service there ought to be at least one on the Republican state ticket in November. The committee observed that Milligan is the only World War II veteran seeking nomination to a state office in the May Republican primaries.

Milligan, 39, is a former assistant attorney general of Ohio and past president of the League of Young Republican clubs of Ohio. He volunteered four months after Pearl Harbor and served more than three years with the Army Air Forces. He is a native of Wyandot county.

Russian Policy Casts Cloud on Big Four Parley

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Russia's refusal to accept the majority decision of the UN security council to retain the troublous Soviet-Iranian case on the agenda, coming on top of previous evidences of non-conformity, is causing worry (though by no means despondency) about the future of the peace organization and consequently is casting a shadow across the vital conference of Big Four ministers as it assembles in Paris today to tackle the tough problem of framing European peace treaties.

DewittMackenzie

The question which is causing the burning of midnight oil in diplomatic circles is what chance there is of accord among the major powers if one of them refuses to play ball unless it likes the way the game is going. Differences of viewpoint must be expected, of course, but if any one of the paramount Big Three decides to play a lone hand, in defiance of majority opinion, there obviously can be no unity.

The harsh corollary to this is that without unity there can be no peace. To change to a more blunt figure of speech, one wonders whether the type of husbandry currently being practiced by some presages the sowing of another crop of dragon's teeth.

U. S. Gets Tough

Russia's direct-actionist methods—such as announcing that she will boycott any further discussion of the Iranian case because she doesn't agree with the majority—obviously is inspired by her belief that Britain and the United States are trying to stymie what she regards as her legitimate ambitions. There has indeed been a hardening of the attitude of the western Allies recently towards what they regard as excessive ambition on the part of the Soviet Union in the expansion of its zones of influence.

The crux of the matter naturally lies in what really is in the minds of the Big Three. Is Russia right in her belief that she is being unjustly hampered? Are the western Allies correct in viewing the Soviet's undoubtedly vigorous expansion of her zones of influence as a menace to their interests and to international peace? Or are both sides harboring unwarranted suspicions?

The answers to these key questions may be delivered with a bang at the foreign ministers' conference. That will be all to the good if it forces a show-down so that each of the powers can learn what the other fellows have in mind.

Too Much Mind-reading

The trouble thus far has been that the Big Three have been far too dependent on mind-reading. Not overlooking that we should be sure we have the mote out of our own eye before we try to extract the beam from the other chap's, it is fair enough to remark that mind-reading has been rendered even more difficult by the direct-actionist tactics which Moscow has introduced into diplomacy.

The Muscovites act first and explain afterwards—if at all.

The Big Three are treading on dangerous ground. However, as already remarked, we may get a denouement at the foreign ministers' conference since the framing of the treaties, and especially the Italian pact, is related to the zones of influence. So the aims and policies of the Big Three may become more apparent. It should be noted, however, that the conferees are not filled with joyous optimism as they go into session.

Man on the Flying Trapeze Initiated by Jumping Mule

By International News Service

FORT RILEY, Kans.—If you'd not see a painted expression cross the brow of Lt. William E. Kennedy, pass no quips about the temperament of the Missouri mule—or any mule, for that matter.

For the apple of the eye of Lt. Kennedy is Hamilton T. Bones—better known as Hambones—a true example of what can happen when nature fails into a whimsical mood.

To Lt. Kennedy, Hambones is a mule with a soul and just about the best herbivorous mammal not cavorting on the cultivated landscapes of Churchill Downs or Hialeah. Lt. Kennedy, to say the least, is an authority on mules. He loves them.

Outran Horses

"People laugh at mules," he frowns in displeasure at an ill-timed jibe. "But I've proved a mule can do anything a horse can do."

To illustrate this fact, Lt. Kennedy calls upon his fellow cavalry officers to substantiate his contention that Hambones has appeared at two state fairs and in three jumping demonstrations. Hambones is nothing short of a sensation; his ribbons prove it.

In all his career as a public performer Hambones has only two knockdowns scored against him. He has jumped five feet two inches and has breezed over the Fort Riley hunt course in less than three minutes. He has outrun many of the horses at the cavalry school

Easier To Jump

"Mules are easier to jump than horses. They can be taught more quickly than a horse," Lt. Kennedy expounded.

To prove this point, he exhibited Kathy K., another of the species Equus caballus, whose Jumping record to date is merely four feet nine inches. But Lt. Kennedy insists that some day she will surpass the one and only Hambones in the case with which she glides through the air.

And so from a lowly pack-mule, Hambones rose to be a celebrity, never again to become a pack-mule, according to a promise exacted by Lt. Kennedy from Maj. William Hale, commander of the 611th Field Artillery Battalion at Fort Riley.

When Lt. Kennedy returns to his home at Litchfield, Conn., as plain Mr. Kennedy, he will carry with him the fond memory of Hamilton T. Bones, a mule with imagination.

Miss Hazel P. Williams of Chicago, secretary of Altrusa International, was the guest speaker for the evening. She gave a resume of the activities of Altrusa International since its organization 29 years ago. Completing the program was a sketch interpreting the activities of service clubs presented by Miss Margaret Huffman, Mrs. Beulah Cathers, Miss Mary Ellen Kerr and Miss Ruth Kleinmaier.

Guests included Miss Helen Sneckenberger and Miss Lois Van Demark.

Upon scanning the files, the witness continued, Hitler "suffered a nervous breakdown and decided to dismiss Von Blomberg immediately."

Gisevius said Hitler first intended to name Von Fritsch as Von Blomberg's successor in the war ministry, "but Goering and Himmler reminded him that was impossible because Von Fritsch was badly incriminated" in the homosexuality charges.

Gisevius said the Gestapo knew as early as Jan. 15, 1938 that Von Fritsch really was innocent.

NEWSPAPERS AT TOP OF NATIONAL WAGE SCALE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 25—The American Newspaper Publishers association was told today that wage increases granted by publishers "now place the daily newspaper business at the top of the national wage scale without a compensating improvement of manpower production."

In a report to the ANPA's 60th annual convention, the special standing committee, which described itself as "substantially an arbitration committee," declared:

"This procession up the wage ladder while descending the production ladder, with the number of daily newspapers decreasing from 2,216 in 1939 to 1,757 in 1946, does not spell progress for either management or labor. For management the result is obvious. For labor the result is decreased employment opportunity."

"Wages, like profits, dividends, and commissions, should be determined by production. As in other industries, the newspaper business cannot survive, nor can the public withstand, an endless march of increased costs without a commensurate improvement in production."

PLAN EXPANSION OF LOFTY OBSERVATORY

By The United Press

BOULDER, Col. — It stands to reason that the best way to study an object is to get as close as possible to it.

And that's exactly what's being done in cosmic ray research at the Harvard-University of Colorado high-altitude observatory at Climax, Col.

The observatory is more than two miles above sea level in the breathy reaches of the Rocky Mountains. From that altitude, Science has been able to make an interesting study of the sun and stars. In fact, the observatory soon will become "one of the most important research centers in the nation," in the opinion of Dr. Walter C. Roberts, observatory director.

Dr. Roberts, Harvard astrophysicist, said that the observatory, which played a vital part in the war, soon will be expanded to provide for studies in seismology, meteorology and botany.

"We plan to build new telescopes and housings for astronomical equipment, with laboratory space for cosmic ray instruments, and also comfortable year-round quarters for the personnel," the scientist said. "In addition, we plan to establish a headquarters at the University of Colorado here where an analysis of observations can be undertaken."

Dr. Roberts' announcement revealed for the first time that the observatory had taken a vitally secret part in the war. He stated that "important progress" was made in research dealing with the sun's effects on radio transmission and reception, and that the work was continuing. Data gathered at the observatory, he said, had helped to form a basis for accurate prediction of quality of radio reception by the armed forces, both on the ground and in the air.

Climax is famous as site of the world's largest deposit of molybdenum, a metallic element used in the hardening of steel.

430 CREOSOTED TIES BURN AT PLANT HERE

Loss Estimated at $1,100 by Baker Wood Co. Officials.

Ten trams loaded with 430 creosoted ties ready for shipment burned today at the Baker Wood Preserving Co with loss estimated at $1,100. Company officials said some of the ties were probably salvagable.

The fire broke out at 8:35 a. m. and firemen were at the scene more than an hour. Sparks from the company's own yard locomotive were thought to be the cause.

Company officials said the creosote, which burned with a very hot flame leaping 40 feet into the air, was consumed, leaving the ties badly charred. The burning creosote gave off large clouds of thick black smoke which added to the difficulty in fighting the fire.

Firemen from the West Center street and Central stations said they were greatly aided by the fact that the ties were tightly packed and rested only a short distance from the ground.
